190TH REFUELING
IS SUCCESSFUL

Fliers Say They Are in Fine Condition But Engine Begins To Show
Signs of Wear.

SKY HARBOR AIR FIELD,
CHICAGO, July 2.—(Tuesday).— (UN)—Motor trouble began to develop today as the Hunter family's endurance monoplane drifted toward its 500th hour in the air.

As the wing lights of the plane
blinded over the airport at 12:40, 1:40 (C. D. T.), to mark John and Kenneth Hunter's 489th hour at the controls, it became known the 300-horsepower Wright whirlwind motor was "pumping oil" through its piston rings, worn by three solid weeks of steady use.

Walter and Albert Hunter increased the frequency of their refueling contacts to bring up more oil and the danger of a burned-out bearing and a forced ending of the record-breaking flight gradually became greater.

The 190th trip of the refueling plane brought 120 gallons of gasoline, a drum of oil and a package of sandwiches to the two aviators.

They indicated that they personally were in good condition, although sally in need of baths, but that they were considerably worried about their faithful motor.

Albert and Walter were tight lipped in going about preparations for their next refueling contact. They gave up all thought of sleep and with the host of newspaper photographers, movie men and thrilling citizens,
craned their necks toward the blinking lights on the plane high above.

A malt extract firm announced that it would pay one dollar a minute from now on for every minute the plane stayed in the air.

John and Kenneth Hunter told the nation all about it last night by means of another "first-time-ever-done" stunt.

Struck Down by Auto,
Aged Man Near Death

Struck down Tuesday afternoon by an automobile at the corner of Third and West Peachtree streets as he was about to enter his son's automobile,
J. Spier, 73, of 505 Ashby street, S.
W., proprietor of a cleaning and pressing establishment on Third street near Spring, was in a critical condition late Tuesday night at Davis-Fischer hospital, with little hope entertained for his recovery.

According to eye-witnesses, Mr.
Spier was struck down by an automobile traveling south on West Peachtree street driven by Albert Wallace, 212 Clifton road. Witnesses told officers that after striking the man down, Wallace sped up in an attempt to escape, but was caught after a short chase by W. A. Evans, of 694 West Peachtree street, who also witnessed the accident and who pursued the fleeing driver in his car.

W. M. Todd, a motorist who also was near the scene, carried the injured man to the hospital.

Wallace was turned over to officers who arrived to investigate the cause of the accident. He was being held without bond on charges of drunkenness and reckless driving.

Volunteers Needed
To Give Woman Blood

Volunteers for a second blood transfusion which doctors at Grady hospital say is necessary to save the life of Mrs. W. D. King, 30, of 157
Alexander street, mother of two children, are needed early this morning.

Mrs. King has been ill in the hospital for two weeks and a blood transfusion a week ago, when a city fireman gave the blood, improved her condition.
Tuesday the doctors said that another was required.

Volunteers are asked to apply before 9 o'clock this morning.

Eight relatives of Mrs. King volunteered at Grady hospital Tuesday night but none of the blood examined would match. Doctors said the transfusion was vitally necessary today.

Senate Increases
Veteran PensionsSUSPENSION URGED FOR CITY DOCTOR

Wilkins Is Charged With Extorting Small Sums
From 10 Young Women.

Suspension of Dr. John G. Wilkins, city physician, pending outcome of indictment charging him with 13 counts of extortion, will be brought at the next meeting of council, Monday, it was announced Tuesday by Alderman G. Everett Millican on the heels of the return of the indictment by the Fulton county grand jury.

Dr. Wilkins already was under indictment in the federal district court on charges of violation of federal narcotics laws.

Council has authority to suspend any city official or to abolish their jobs at any time although it could not fine an incumbent during a term of office without proper legal procedure and proving unfitness or acts involving moral turpitude.

Will Take Joint Action.
Mr. Millican will be joined in his demand that Dr. Wilkins be relieved of his duties by Alderman Ed A.
Gilliam, of the twelfth ward, and by Councilman Joseph E. Berman, of the fourth.

"This matter is especially important," Mr. Millican declared. "If the charges are true, Dr. Wilkins most certainly should be removed from his position in the city."

"The public will lose confidence in Dr. Wilkins at once and it can be restored only through absolute and final vindication by a jury. Until this is done, Dr. Wilkins, I believe, should voluntarily vacate his office."

When called about the matter Tuesday night, Dr. Wilkins intimated that he might consider vacating his position pending outcome of the trial, but declined to make a definite statement pending the outcome of the trial. At this time I feel that I should make no statement," he said. "I shall have something to say at a later date."

Councilman William R. Johnson, of the eleventh ward, chairman of the benevolence and pension committee, under which Dr. Wilkins works, was out of the city Tuesday night and could not be reached.

Dr. John P. Kennedy, city health officer, directly in charge of Dr. Wilkins' office, is in Europe attending an international convention of city health officers, and is not due back until some time in August.

Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A.
Stephens Thursday night announced that the city had received a state charge had been fixed at $2,000. The physician is expected to post that amount today to guarantee his appearance in court when his case is called for trial.

The extortion indictment against the city physician alleges that he obtained from 10 young women, listed as witnesses, various sums ranging from $5 to $38. The counts do not go into detail but it was learned that all of the witnesses are women arrested at one time or another and released after being examined by Dr. Wilkins and, according to attaches of Solicitor-General John A.
Boykin's office, paying the doctor the various sums for ordering their release.

Other projected indictments by the grand jury, growing out of the city hall graft inquiry, were delayed until Thursday because of the absence of several important witnesses.

The grand jury also will make its presentations to Judge Virlyn B.
Moore and be discharged.

The new July-August grand jury is to be sworn in next Monday.

Fort Valley Teacher
Gets Spingarn Medal

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 1.—
(AP)—The Spingarn medal, awarded annually by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to the outstanding colored citizen of the year, was presented Tuesday to Dr. H. A. Hunt, principal of the Fort Valley, Ga., rural school, for his contributions toward the education of the negro race. The presentation was made by Dr. William A. Neilson, president of Smith College, at the twenty-third annual convention of the association.

Dr. Neilson praised Dr. Hunt as a "spade worker" and cited him for his educational work among the negroes of his community. He said Dr. Hunt was developing clear thinkers.

Teachers To Re-elect
Miss Mary Barker

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 1.—(AP)—
Miss Mary C. Barker, Atlanta, presi-

Presidential Veto Deemed Certain Unless House Reduces Provisions of Revamped Bill.

BY HERBERT LITTLE,
United News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(UN)—
The senate passed the disabled World War veterans' pension bill tonight after increasing its payments heavily and authorizing pensions for disabilities caused by wartime "vicious habits"—both of which are disapproved by President Hoover. The vote was 55 to 11.

It was the third open break of the day between the two houses. The disagreements created a legislative jam which may keep congress in session for a week or 10 days longer. The other two breaks, delaying the second deficiency and District of Columbia appropriation bills, already have brought the district and the Wickersham commission to operation on a "bankrupt basis" with payment of salaries contingent upon final passage of the delayed measures.

The pension bill as it passed the senate was amended to a point where it is scarcely recognizable as the offshoot of the administration bill passed by the house. It carried pensions of from $20 to $60 a month, as compared with $12 to $40 in the house bill.

Unless the house cuts down the rates, a presidential veto is foreseen.
Mr. Hoover has disapproved of the proposal adopted by the senate, authorizing payments to veterans who contracted social diseases in the service, in other bills, and he has also indicated in no uncertain terms that a bill carrying as large an expenditure as this one will not meet with his approval.

Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, leading today's debate for the $20 to $60 amendment of two democrats, Walsh, of Massachusetts, and Connally, of Texas, denounced the administration as "niggardly" for expecting disabled veterans to live on the smaller pensions. It was adopted 37 to 26. The hoes were all republicans, but 28 democrats joined with 9 republicans to vote it in. The nine republicans were Blaine and La Follette, Wisconsin; Cuttin, New Mexico; Dale, Vermont; Hatfield, West Virginia; Howell and Norris, Nebraska, and Robinson, Indiana.

The senate passed the bill once without a record vote, but on request of Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, a roll call was taken, the lineup being 55 to 11, with opponents all republicans. The 11 were Bingham, Walcott, Connecticut; Borah, Idaho;
Fess, Ohio; Goldborough, Maryland;
Hastings, Delaware; Hebert and Metcalfe, Rhode Island; Moses, New Hampshire; Sullivan, Wyoming, and Vandenberg, Michigan.

The vote indicated without doubt that the senate would override the president's veto if one is forthcoming.
An attempt to compromise and accept the measure is expected, however, as a veto if upheld would frustrate republican promises for some sort of veterans' aid legislation.

The senate appropriations committee took aggressive action in its fight against the house on the District appropriation bill. The resolution passed the senate yesterday, carrying last year's expenses for current expenses, was amended to include the whole appropriation as passed by the senate, including the controversial $12,000,000
federal-aid contribution to the District support. House leaders demand that this amount be restricted to $9, 000,000.

This amounts to an ultimatum that there will be no adjournment of congress until and unless the house grants a compromise.

Meantime the district government and its thousands of employees started the new fiscal year with not a cent of money, legally available. The district commissioners have ordered operations to continue on "credit," in the expectation that something will be done by congress before payday rolls around. Some paydays are due in a week, most of them in two weeks.
No house construction can be undertaken until the bill is passed.

The house rules committee acted in the Wickersham commission controversy on Mr. Hoover's side, drafting a special rule which will allow the senate's $50,000 for the commission to $250,000 and remove the restriction to draw-inquiry only.

The second deficiency bill, carrying this appropriation, is expected to be brought up in the house tomorrow.
Further conferences with the senate will be necessary if the house amendment is adopted, however, and Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, archenemy of the commission, may seek to block the increased appropriation in the senate. In this case, the amendment would have to be let out of the bill would fail.

New York Greets
Golf King TodayU. S. FRANK ABUSE
IS LAD TO HARRIS

Slaton, in Statement, Says Senator Is Sending Campaign Data Free.

Former Governor John M. Slaton, candidate for the United States senate against Senator William J. Harris, Tuesday issued a statement fairly bristling with charges, in which it is declared that the state's senior senator is using his government frank and free stationery "to push his campaign."

Holding that Senator Harris' vote against Judge Parker's confirmation to the supreme court was "a deadly blow at white supremacy," the statement declares that the senator's response against Mrs. McCormick for having defeated Senator Deneen, who voted with him against Judge Parker, is misplaced because Mrs. McCormick
"would do the same thing on account of the 300,000 negroes in Illinois."

Governor Slaton again attacks Senator Harris on his attitude to the League of Nations and World Court.
He says that Harris, who voted for the league, would have pointed to his unanimous election as justification for his advocacy of the league and the league's chief aim.

Slaton takes cognizance of the senator's reference to campaign finances by charging that "he indulges in cheap demagoguery about money to be detected."

He adds the charge that Harris has been receiving money from the government. "Yet," the statement continues, "when I see clerk buy stamps and pay for the printing of my announcement, he threatens me with a senatorial committee investigation."

Statement in Full.
The statement of former Governor
Slaton in full is as follows:

"Never did a candidate betray such fright as did Senator Harris in his card of June 30.

"He had not opposed him for senator, he would have pointed to his unanimous election as justification for his advocacy of the League of Nations and the World Court. His one vote might have thrown us into the whirlpool of European wars."

"Now, either my article converted him, emphasized by the heavy headlines in Sunday's papers that Italy and France were fighting their fran-tires, or he heard from home the roar of protest against his position."

"In any event, he abandons the principle of his dead chief, President Woodrow Wilson, and reverses his whole attitude by opposing the League of Nations."

"If only three published cards of mine have so nearly converted Senator Harris, who are yet yet for the World Court and League of Nations the danger of such a court and league is obvious."

"But he holds on by his toenails to the World Court, provided it does not pass on our matters. That is, we shall belong to a court created and regulated by the League of Nations, an essential part of it, pass judgment on the rights of other countries, but refuse to be judged ourselves. A child would know this is impossible and is but an entering wedge. Eve would have been safe if she had not listened to the tempter."

"Senator Harris tried to escape the issue by saying it was dead, until my letter called attention to the fact that the president announces he will force action by the senate in December. Probably he did not know it."

"He displays deep resentment against Mrs. McCormick for having defeated Senator Deneen."

County Improvement Work Curtailment in 1931 Sought

Paul S. Etheridge Also To Recommend That Fulton Salaries Be Reduced.

Adoption of a strict policy of retrenchment in public improvements for the balance of the year and a reduction in salaries for 1931 will be recommended to the county commission at its meeting this afternoon by Paul S. Etheridge, chairman of the public works committee.

The strained condition of the county treasury renders it imperative to curtail all improvements work except emergency jobs, Mr. Etheridge said. The public works chairman will urge that all county convicts be transferred from paving work to the stone quarries, in order to store up material for future work and save that expense.

Mr. Etheridge said that his plan of retrenchment would not affect work on the Bobby Jones golf course, but that convicts would be kept on the golf course job as long as possible.

Mr. Etheridge said that he does not see how the county can possibly hope to appropriate a requested sum of $15,000 for improvement of Grady highway. This sum was sought at a meeting of the commission last week, and the matter will come up today for further discussion.

Plans to push the request for state and highway department aid in widening Stewart avenue into a 40-foot boulevard to Hapeville are being made by the commissioners. Commissioner Walter R. Stewart has requested Captain J. W. Barnett, chairman of the state highway board, to furnish materials for the project, the county to furnish labor.

"The county has grown into practically a large city and it is impossible to meet all of the many demands for improvements," Mr. Etheridge said. "At first, the county laid out paved highways in all directions from the city to the county line. These highways led to slow but steady development of the county outside of Atlanta during a long period of years, and during the past few years this development has increased to such an extent that innumerable side roads have been laid out and residents living on them are demanding pavements."

Stomach Ulcers Healed at Home

3-Day Relief—No Operation

In three days your pain will be eased. Then, in a week or so, you will notice that the acid condition that caused your trouble will begin to be relieved, and the first bottle will convince you that you have at last found a remedy that will restore your stomach to its natural healthy condition where you can eat good, wholesome food and enjoy it. No need to suffer with ulcers, hyper-acidity, distress after eating, stomach pains, gas or sour stomach, indigestion or constipation, for Von's Tablets taken after meals as directed will heal you just as it has healed thousands of others, after all other treatment had failed. Not sold in drug stores, but sent direct from laboratory. If you want to be free from pain in three days, and relieved of all stomach troubles in a remarkably short time, call or write for full information to Atlanta V.C. Co., Room 709 Walton Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

Each of these residents seems to feel that his pavement is an emergency job, and the commission has been beset by the great deal of paving. But an end has to come some time, and for the remainder of this year the county will be unable to undertake any new improvements. We will probably be able to finish some projects that are well under way, however.

Kenneth Rogers' News Photograph Wins First Place

First place among pictures submitted by members of the Thirteen News Photographers' Club at their bi-monthly meeting Monday night was awarded to an unusual silhouette of a cavalry action at Fort Oglethorpe. The photograph was made by Kenneth Rogers, of the Constitution's photography department. It will be published this coming Sunday on the front page of the rotogravure section.

The guest of honor at the photographers' meeting at the Ansley hotel was the Rev. Wallace Rogers, well-known divine. Mr. Rogers is an amateur photographer of note and discussed photography as it was many years ago.

Pictures submitted at the gathering of the club included every phase of newspaper work, ranging from action news shots to portraits for the society department. According to the club's regulations covering photographs entered for the bi-monthly contest, each member is entitled to submit a photograph taken since the last meeting.

A feature to be undertaken at an early date by members of the club will consist of reproductions of night scenes in downtown Atlanta. Arrangements will be made to have lights of all office buildings and other structures turned on at some definite date and time, when the newspaper cameramen will go abroad to "catch" the most spectacular shots available. Officers of the club, started several months ago, are Walter Sparks, Journal, president; W. C. Lane, Georgian, treasurer; and J. T. Holloway, Constitution, secretary.

Eight Tobacco Dealers Fined in Stamp Misuse

The conviction of eight Atlanta tobacco dealers on charges of re-using tobacco tax stamps was announced Tuesday by R. C. Matheson, state revenue commissioner. All entered pleas of guilty.

Mr. Matheson said that examination of the backs of stamps in several of the cases disclosed that coloring matter from the packages of different brands of cigarettes had adhered to the glue. The evidence of the misuse of the stamps was plain, he said.

The dealers were: Angier Drug Company, 474 North Boulevard, fined $50; S. Katz, 1433 Jonesboro road, given three months on probation; Pete Brown, 288 Houston street, N. E., fined $25; Central Cigar & Soda Company, 142 Central avenue, fined $25; Sidney Joffe, of 666 Fair street, N. E., fined $25; Ben Cohen, 623 West Fair street, fined $25; Maurice Reich, 216 Linden street, N. E., fined $25; and James E. Williams & Son, 920 Simpson street, fined $25.

Sewer Committee Indorses 4 Projects

Four bond issue projects totaling $7,275 were recommended Tuesday afternoon at the semi-monthly meeting of the sewer committee of council.

Other routine matters also were considered. Division of the fund as recommended follows:

Four thousand, two hundred and fifty dollars for construction of the Candler road sanitary outfall; $925 for the Browning street sewer; $1,400 for extension of the Peachtree and Seventeenth street sewers; and $700 for construction of the Burckel street sewer.

The Atlanta bond commission will hold a meeting this afternoon at the city hall to pass on the sewer proposals and other matters which have been referred to it by various council committees pending the Monday meeting of council.

Steamship Agent Born Takes New Quarters

John M. Born, well-known steamship tourist agent, has changed his offices from the Candler building to 35 Walton street, N. W., at the Walton street entrance of the Healey building.

Mr. Born is one of Atlanta's pioneers in steamship tourist travel and represents leading steamship organizations throughout the world.

On account of the growth of his business for the past few years Mr. Born found it desirable to move nearer to the center of the city with first-floor offices.

He moved into his new headquarters Tuesday.

Burns Club To Hear Two Judges Tonight

Judge A. W. Cozart, of Columbus, president of the Georgia Bar Association, and Judge J. J. Hunt, of Griffin, state commander of the Confederate Veterans, will deliver addresses tonight at the regular meeting of the Burns Club at the cottage on Confederate avenue.

Judge Cozart will speak on the topic, "Scotchmen Who Have Met Me." Dr. Wightman F. Melton, president, will act as toastmaster. The dinner will be served at 7:15 o'clock.

Terminal Building Work Starts Soon

Actual construction of the new $3,000,000 26-story Dixie Terminal building to be erected by the United States Warehouse Company is expected to begin next week, it was learned Tuesday at offices opened at 57 Alabama street by the E. W. Spruiell Company of Chicago, contractors to whom the project has been awarded.

The site of the old Union depot, upon which the new structure will be erected, has been cleared and leveled, preparatory to starting construction. Although no definite announcement was made, it was expected that the work of sinking the foundations would begin Monday.

ONLY $10,000 GIVEN CHEST DURING MONTH

Fiscal Agent of 39 Societies Borrows $25,000 To Carry On.

Function of the Community Chest as fiscal agent of Atlanta's 39 societies of human welfare was demonstrated in the auditor's report of that organization for the last month, showing that with little more than $10,000 collected on pledges by the public, and with necessity to distribute more than $33,000 to the member societies, the city's work of social service was maintained without a break.

The report of Ham Elison & Company, auditors of the Chest, showed that because of the meager collections on public pledges it was necessary for the Chest to borrow $25,000 from banks to maintain operation of the 39 welfare societies.

Receipts for the month were: Cash on 1929 subscriptions, $130; cash on 1929 subscriptions, $1,237.75; on 1930 subscriptions, $8,942.64; borrowed money, $25,000; dividend on donated stock, $15; interest on account, $141; total, $35,326.80.

Disbursements were: To member organizations, $33,003.17; special appropriation to organizations, $210; Chest administration, $1,400.55; 1930 campaign, $104.34; 1931 campaign, $552.91; interest and discount, $224.35; total, $35,784.35.

This excess of expenditures over receipts, amounting to $457.55, reduced the cash balance of the Chest at the end of the month to $876.80.

Col. D. K. Major, Area Staff Chief, Sent to Benning

Announcement of the transfer of Colonel Duncan K. Major, Jr., chief of staff of the fourth corps area, to Fort Benning, near Columbus, as commanding officer of the Twenty-ninth infantry was made Tuesday. He will be succeeded here by Colonel Harry H. Tebbetts.

During the four years Colonel Major has been a resident of Atlanta he has served as the executive to four major generals commanding the fourth corps area and has inspected practically every army activity in the eight southeastern states comprising the corps area.

Colonel Major began his military career as a cadet at the United States Military academy in 1905 and was commissioned in the infantry in 1909. He is a graduate of various army schools in this country and France, his service dating back to the Boxer rebellion in China. He also saw service in the Philippines during 1903-05. During the early part of the World War he was on duty in China but joined the American expeditionary forces in France in 1918 as chief of staff of the Twenty-sixth division.

A large number of Atlanta friends, regretting his departure, are delighted that he will remain as near as Fort Benning.

Montague Improves.

The condition of Harry J. Montague, of 1266 Gordon street, S. W., who is at the Georgia Baptist hospital recovering from a serious operation, was reported Tuesday as improving.

GRADY WHITE UNIT CONTROL DISCUSSED

Control of the white unit of Grady hospital Tuesday continued to be the center of interest in local political affairs as many members of council agreed that some change from the operation of the institution by a council committee is needed to increase efficiency.

Councilman George B. Lyle, who has announced he will offer a plan for appointment by the mayor of a board of seven trustees to operate the unit, stated he still has an open mind on the proposal that the institution be turned over to Emory University Medical College as the negro unit now is operated.

"If it can be shown that operation of the unit by Emory will be an advantage to the taxpayers, I will support it," he declared.

Mayor I. N. Hagdale also is of the opinion that some change should be made and has expressed himself as being willing to co-operate in a change for the betterment of conditions.
Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the tenth ward and chairman of the hospitals and charities committee, is in favor of a change and several days ago announced he would sanction a plan to turn the unit over to Emory. At that time Councilman James L. Wells, of the eighth ward, also declared himself in favor of that program.

Quakes Recorded.

NEW YORK, July 1.—(AP)—Two slight earthquake shocks were recorded last night on the seismograph of Fordham University. The first shock was at 8:17 p. m. (E. S. T.) and the second at 8:23. The distance was 2,900 miles from New York.

LESSON OF THE PANIC.

Very slowly, but very strongly, it is penetrating the minds of the business leaders of the nation that Wall Street speculation was not the only cause of the stock market panic of last fall.

The bottom fact that caused the collapse of the market value of stocks and bonds of railroads, utilities, industrials and commodities was the reduced power of the whole people to buy sufficiently to guarantee dividends and interest payments on the current flotations and to absorb the outputs of commodities.

When agriculture is unprofitable and farmers sinking more deeply into debt; when travel and freight car loadings decline heavily; when salaries sink and wages weaken; when accompanying volumes of unemployment, the investment values of stocks and bonds must inevitably follow into the general depression.

Mere speculative manipulations upon the stock and produce markets cannot sustain for long the remunerative prices of the stocks and bonds dependent upon the rails, the power and light plants, the factories and investment corporations of popular service.

The newly-enforced lesson is that the people must prosper before business can make profits. Hence the first work of government and capital is to promote the prosperity of the people at large and the people will then keep business active, healthy and profitable.

FRANCE AND ITALY.

A common hope should be held in all Europe and in America that the reported rapprochement of France and Italy to a pacific agreement between them may come into a binding concordat.

Those two countries could easily come to war with each other over their divergent beliefs as to what constitutes the national integrity and security of each, and thereby inevitably embroil all Europe in another general conflict of arms. And in that event it is questionable how the United States could maintain neutrality and not be dragged into the new conflagration.

To the informed and unimpaired lay minds of other people, including our own, there appears no unsurmountable reason why France and Italy, in a world atmosphere of pacific psychology, cannot agree to live with each other upon terms of peace and justice arbitration of issues arising between them.

But if they insist upon going to war over Mediterranean claims the other nations should not hesitate to boycott their war, make the Mediterranean a "closed sea" in the meanwhile and deny them war money and munitions. Make it a Kilkenny fight with all other hands off!

PENSIONS AND POLITICS.

It is greatly to be deplored that the vast business of government relief to disabled veterans and their needy dependents cannot be dealt with apart from congressional and party politics. But always since a pension system has become a federal function the beneficiaries of it have organized themselves into political lobbies and put political pressure upon congresses and administrations.

The "money power" in Wall Street, the railway organizations, the manufacturers' home market and tariff combines, the farmers' organizations, and the labor federations, have none of them ever had the power to determine federal action that has been shown by the war veterans of the nation. And today they are politically and potentially greater than ever in our history.

That condition arises out of the fact that it is the settled substantive policy of the American people that the veterans of their wars, whether domestic or foreign, who are actual sufferers because of their war services, shall have the care and necessary support of a generous country.

But both common sense and common justice should prevail in legislation to that end. It ought to be possible in this era of science and experience to officially and scientifically determine who are disabled veterans and the true percentage of their-declared ability. Every living veteran should be able to secure a prompt and just rating of his pension rights, and so should the widows and dependent children of veterans. The people will not begrudge justice and equitably generosity to any of them.

As long, however, as pensions are to be used for the personal political profit of congressmen and for the political benefit of party, there will continue to be propaganda, confusion, and manifest discriminations in pension legislation and administration. All of which will happen under this latest so-called "veterans' relief" law.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

For several months the two houses of congress have been deadlocked over the appropriation bill for the District of Columbia, now practically wholly covered by the city of Washington, the capital of the nation. The house insists that only $9,000,000 shall be given from the national treasury for the upkeep of the District, as for some years past, while the senate wishes to raise that to $12,000,000 as a more equitable contribution.

The status of the nation's capital is one of the curious anomalies of our federal system. When Jefferson and Hamilton compromised the capital issue by agreeing to locate the seat of the federal government on the Potomac river, concessions were made by Maryland and Virginia to constitute a federal District ten miles square lying upon both sides of the river. In 1845 congress receded the Virginia part of the district to that state, reducing the District to about six miles square on the east, or Maryland, side of the stream; but those facts cut no figure in the situation now.

The constitution provides among the powers delegated to the congress one "to exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states and the acceptance of congress, become the seat of government of the United States," which power remains complete in the congress, without let or hindrance by the residents of the District. They are disfranchised, are unrepresented in the congress, and their municipal affairs are administered by officers appointed by the president, confirmed by the senate, or otherwise designated under the laws made by the congress.

The people who have elected to own property and reside leisurely or transact business in the District of Columbia, or Washington city, are not regular citizens of the United States, but are subjects of the congress, similar to Porto Ricans, Hawaiians and Filipinos. Those are all curious facts to exist in the heart of the Union, and are the source of irritation and some forms of obvious practical injustice. One form of injustice is this recent refusal of the congress to live up to a substantive law enacted in 1878 to apportion the contributions to District expenses on the basis of 60 per cent by the people of the District and 40 per cent by the federal government.

All Europe looks upon Mussolini as the likely muser-up of the peace of the world. Some one should send him a picture of the late Kaiser William.

As a pinch-bitter for his Pa national functions the Prince of Wales totes the batting average of all Europe.

Another airplane has flown across the Atlantic ocean—and what of it?

The people are waiting around the corner for congress to come home.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Modern Hermit.

A modern hermit's cell is being finished on the Monte Generoso, the beautiful peak in the very heart of the Italian lakes. It is situated about 100 feet below the top, within six feet of the Swiss-Italian boundary, and can only be approached by the small footpath which leads along the frontier of the narrow crest of the mountain. The hermitage stands right above a sheer descent of 4,000 feet, a place where an eagle might build its eyrie. Climbing to the bare precipitous rock of the mountain-side without any space to walk around, it looks like a swallow's nest. The door at the back and a window in front looking down into the abyss, and far upon the lakes and mountains. But it is well furnished and provided with electric current for lighting, cooking and heating purposes. On its side there is a special water tank, in which the rainwater is being gathered. The future hermit, who is present staying at the Kulm hotel of the Monte Generoso, superintending the finishing touches to her cell, is a member of the Italian aristocracy, Marquessa Vitalechi, a Dutch lady by birth, she married the marquessa, who is 20 years older than she. The reason for her retirement is her nerves. She is said not to be able to bear human faces and voices. She will not see anyone in her cell. Her supplies will be slipped down from the top on a wire-cord, up to the hotel by the little railway, and thence carried to the top by mules.

Lost.

Frenchmen are proud of the great letter-writers they have had, but many of them are now bemoaning the fact that their country has lost its great letter-writer. Modern letters, so the critics say, are becoming more and more like little sheets of tabloid news. The penmanship is less and less beautiful, and the letters are no longer as interesting as those of the past. The Frenchman who wrote the letters of the past was not only a great writer, but a great man. He was a man of letters, a man of the pen, a man of the ink. He was a man who wrote letters that were read and treasured. He was a man who wrote letters that were a part of his life. He was a man who wrote letters that were a part of the world.

Parisian Baths.

One of the most typical survivals of nineteenth-century Paris is the "etablissement de bains" of which there is still one in every quarter, though the increase of flats supplied with bathrooms, the etablissement de bains is doomed also. A generation ago every bourgeois would visit it once or twice a week, and it would actually order a bath to be sent round to his own house, and it would arrive on a cart, its polished copper tub on wheels, and the attendant would water piled above it; and as it was being carried upstairs the neighbors would say: "Ah, there has been a case of the bath."

THE PHYSIOLOGY OF REST.

THE SECRETS OF SOUND SLEEP.

There are really five essentials of healthy sleep, but we'll list them under seven heads to harmonize with the seven days of the week. 1. A bed consisting of a base, springs and mattress. 2. A good pillow. 3. A good blanket. 4. A good sheet. 5. A good nightgown. 6. A good pair of slippers. 7. A good pair of socks.

The Loss of the Ship Begins When One Sailor's Impudence Goes Unrebuked

By Robert Quillen

The greatest enemies of a country are its indifferent friends.

America's present troubles are due to the fact that the average man doesn't care.

When some menace or wrong appears without warning, the shock of surprise is sufficient to arouse the popular interest necessary to overcome it. But threats and injustices and indecencies that develop gradually seldom meet with opposition, for public tolerance grows with the evil itself and custom makes wrong seem right.

If the women of 1910 had discarded the greater part of their clothing and appeared in public as women dressed last year, all the world would have joined in a chorus of condemnation; but the change came so gradually that each new exposure seemed but little worse than the accepted standard that preceded it, and at last women walked the streets almost nude without great hurt to themselves or the beholder.

If the indecencies that now are commonplace in books and plays had appeared 20 years ago, those responsible for the innovation would have been sent to jail and that would have ended the business. But the first "daring" sentence came down so little that its naughtiness was merely amusing, and each subsequent change was so slight that few were shocked enough to protest—so that the producers themselves, striving always to provide a thrill, at last reached the level of common filth without realizing how they got there.

A similar process and a similar growth of callous indifference explain the present impudence of crime. Suppose the gangs that now infest large cities had appeared in a day 30 years ago; suppose men entrusted with public money had all at once begun to gamble in stocks; suppose public servants had been found guilty of accepting bribes; suppose men in high place had as one man openly violated the laws and given mere lip service to good citizenship.

You know what the result would have been. Newspaper headlines would have blazed with indignation; outraged citizens would have organized and armed themselves; juries and judges would have given short shrift to culprits brought before them, and traitors who escaped the lash of the law would have been coated with tar.

But corruption developed so gradually that public tolerance developed with it, and the country's sense of decency and its standards so fastened to the neck disclosure of corruption arouses more than a cynical shrug of indifference. Crooks remain in office and are accepted in good society. Common people scorn law because the great make a mock of it. Dirt accumulates undisturbed when people grow accustomed to it and no longer feel ashamed.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK

Special Dispatch to The Atlanta Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.

Hollywood, Cal., July 1.—The world's most famous city (some are bold enough to tag it the gothic) starts a new week with a wrinkle across its brows. "What fifty to pull next?" asked a local agent. "The lingerie shower for boys. Then the lady who played with Hoot Gibson carried him monogrammed handkerchiefs, handkerchiefs, handkerchiefs. The lady who played with Hoot Gibson carried him monogrammed handkerchiefs, handkerchiefs, handkerchiefs. The lady who played with Hoot Gibson carried him monogrammed handkerchiefs, handkerchiefs, handkerchiefs."

Ukelele Ike contributes his share to novelties by asking for custody of the family dog in his forthcoming picture. "That's a pretty good one, too, in a community where brains are paid for at phenomenal rates and where a joke is worth more—providing it be original—than in any other place under God's sun."

Jack Gilbert confides to his intimates in the early morning hours that love isn't all it's cracked up to be. "Int. Claire is yearning stage-wards again. And her second movie will be made on the east coast."

The only way to contribute novelty to romance in Hollywood is to chase the exclusives ranks of the truly original. "Lon Chaney's game fight for health is being carried on although he succumbs to the disease," said a local agent. "This time east coast specialists will be consulted—the man of a thousand faces is en route to New York to have his face treated beyond that obtainable out here."

defeated that "Christian gentleman, Senator DeLoach," who voted with against Judge Parker. Mrs. McCormick will do the same thing because there are 300,000 negroes in Illinois. "Senator Harris even gets mad at the defeat of Senator Grundy, who put the billion-dollar tariff on us. They must have been buddies."

"Then he indulges in cheap demagoguery, and he votes against me. I have not the inclination nor intention to spend anything like $100,000. Will the senator give the names of his friends who are going to give him $100,000 more per year has been at his disposal for a secretary at $3,900 per year and three clerks. I notice he has just appointed a secretary at $10,000 per year. He has not one before? The government gave him the money for one."

"Charges Use of Frank. "He has used the money for his government, and used frank letters with free stationery to push his campaign."

"I have in my possession a letter from him, written in a voice similar to thousands of others, sent in a government franked envelope, which I understand to be in violation of the postal laws."

"He is in Washington, according to his press bureau, like Casablanca on the burning deck, to perform his duty. I have given this right, but the law is sending out plants, which cost the government, I am informed, nearly $2 a piece."

"The government pays his campaign expenses. He even rides the newspapers for free service."

"Yet when I hire clerks, buy stamps and stationery and pay my weekly press for printing my announcement, he threatens a senatorial committee to investigate me and hopes to stop my advertising."

"Is he even a good sport? He is ill-advised to begin whimpering so early."

"As to Judge Parker, he demonstrates his entire ignorance of what is going on."

"He says a reason that influenced him against Judge Parker was the judge's decision that a negro in Richmond, Va., who bought a house in a white section had a right to live in it. I am sure I regret that the 14th amendment gives this right, but the supreme court of Georgia so held in the case of Glover vs. City of Atlanta, 148 Georgia Reports, Page 285, obeying the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the case of Buchanan vs. Warley, 245 U. S. 80. City Attorney James L. Mayson so advised the city council of Atlanta three months ago."

"Any judge in Georgia would have so held, and Senator Harris would have been compelled to vote to let it be violated by his oath. And the lawyers of Virginia and the bar association so knew and endorsed Judge Parker."

"Senator Harris does admit he voted against Judge Parker through ignorance, but in so doing he struck a deadly blow at white supremacy, and whether he shall be given this

MOTOR TROUBLE DEVELOPS IN PLANE

A great bombing plane jockeyed above them, and then employees of a radio chain lowered a microphone down to the cramped cabin of their blue and orange plane.

The microphone was connected to a nation-wide broadcast hook. Radio listeners heard first the combined roar of the two planes and then the voice of John. He sounded as though he needed a drink of water.

"Hello, everybody," he said. "We're still up here and going strong. We don't even know what date it is and I'm away from my home. I don't know whether I'll be able to walk when I get down. But we are going to hang on as long as possible, and then turning the microphone thing over to my brother."

Kenneth snatched the microphone and said: "Well, folks, John said hello so I won't repeat. In justice to everybody, I must give credit to the folks on the ground who have helped us. My mother and sister and brothers, Al and Walt, deserve just as much credit as we. Well, good-by everybody, we'll be seeing you when we get back to the old world."

The radio contact was broken, the bomber faded, its occupants received congratulations and John and Kenneth resumed their act of tracing figure eights in the clouds.

Statisticians figured that if their etchings in the sky only were indelible, the heavens would be one series of gigantic figure eights. They have flown far enough to have circled the globe, and they intend to have started halfway back again, say from the north to the south pole.

The have used enough gasoline to fill a good sized pond, 6,000 gallons, and eaten enough fried chicken to supply a complete Sunday school picnic, even with second helpings.

The fried chicken, incidentally, is a keepsake of the trip. "But they're going to eat it, or else," said Sister Irene, a school teacher from their home town of Sparta, Ill. "Irene figured out that if they ate it before they started, it includes chicken, eggs and lemonade. It leaves out potatoes and other starches."

Albert and Walter Hunter, the two brothers who man the refueling ship, bring up the food to them along with gasoline and repair parts. John and Kenneth dropped a note saying they were tired of chicken, fried, and eggs, boiled. They wanted some fried chicken and repair parts for instance, or at least a change.

"Hot dogs are out," announced Irene. "But I'll give them a change." The fried chicken, eggs and lemonade, and Walter lowered them. A great change in food. It consisted of chicken, baked, eggs, scrambled, fried, and fried. Kenneth, the pilot, reported, made very fast but started nevertheless to consume the provisions as provided.

Murky skies, rain and a heavy fog of the day nearly ended the flight. At the afternoon, the refueling ship had to land. John and Kenneth had to wiggle their wings to force the plane to land. The engine, the dense fog almost caused a smashup.

It took half an hour for the four brothers to make their contact, pour 60 gallons of gasoline through a hose and refuel the plane. The engine then got separated.

Walter was pretty shaky when he landed. So was Albert. They announced they would remain in the flight to the south field a couple of hundred miles to the north.

Good Breeze. Then a spanking breeze from Lake Michigan rolled away the fog, lowered the temperature and made removal of the flight unnecessary.

After breaking the previous endurance record of 420 hours last Sunday morning, the brothers planned to land on the Fourth of July. But their physical condition has remained so good and their motor, despite the complete lack of maintenance, has functioned so well that they decided to try for a 600-hour record.

If they make it they will not come down until late Saturday afternoon. The brothers are now in the air, flying the plane to the north. They are now in the air, flying the plane to the north. They are now in the air, flying the plane to the north.

With the aid of Sparta's Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Lynn already has organized the "Hunter Brothers Airport," which will be located on the outskirts of Sparta and as yet no plans have been made for the Hunter brothers and to Sparta."

BREWSTER EICH SHOOT HIS WIFE

er her outside, firing the six shots without addressing a word to her. He then returned downtown and surrendered himself to the sheriff.

"Trouble, trouble, seems to be our lot," said Brewster Eich, yesterday afternoon at his home, 189 Rawson street, when informed that Brewster had almost duplicated the crime of Erastus.

"I guess we'll better get ready, and go over there as soon as possible," the aged carpenter told his wife, Sydney, who came to his aid. We helped Erastus."

Mrs. Eich immediately went into the kitchen and prepared a hot meal. A friend of the family drove the aged couple to the Alabama city Tuesday night.

Shooting Attracted Attention. The double shooting of Ernest and Elizabeth Eich attracted considerable attention more than a year ago. The young couple had been married less than a year and had separated several times. One night they engaged in a quarrel in the home of Eich's father, a series of shots were fired and several members of the family rushed in and found Mrs. Eich dead and Ernest dangerously wounded.

Ernest Eich insisted his wife had shot him and then killed herself. A coroner's jury found that Elizabeth had come to her death as a result of a bullet wound in the back, which the jury declared would have been impossible for her to fire herself. Ernest Eich hovered between life and death for several weeks, but finally recovered and was put on trial for murder. The case was tried before Judge Oden Persons, of Forsyth, who was sitting in Fulton superior court. The jury found Eich guilty of first degree murder, recommending a sentence of life imprisonment, which Judge Persons ordered.

Young Eich's attorneys took the case to the supreme court, where the verdict was reversed. The case was retried before Judge John D. Humphries, who included manslaughter in his charge and such

Stalin Forces Crushing All Trace of Opposition

Publishers Re-elect All Former Officers

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 1.—(AP)

All officers of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association were re-elected this morning at a closed session of the body, which will close its three-day convention here tomorrow. J. S. Parks, publisher of the Fort Smith (Ark.) Times-Record, succeeded himself as president.

Colonel Robert Ewing, publisher of the New Orleans States, was re-elected chairman of the board. Walter C. Johnson, of the Chattanooga News, will again serve as treasurer and Cranston Williams of Chattanooga will continue as secretary-manager. Some changes were made in members of the board of directors, which follows:

North Carolina, Don S. Elias, Asheville Times; South Carolina, F. C. Withers, Columbia State; Tennessee, James G. Stahlman, Nashville Banner; Virginia, Powell Glass, Lynchburg News and Advance; West Virginia, J. H. Loe, Huntington, Advertiser and Herald Dispatch; Texas, J. L. Mages, Beaumont Enterprise and Journal; Oklahoma, E. K. Gaylord, Oklahoma City, Oklahoman and World-Record; Kansas, J. H. Skewes, Meridian Star; Louisiana, L. K. Nicholson, New Orleans Times-Picayune; Kentucky, W. Bruce Hager, Owensboro Inquirer; and Messenger; Georgia, Clara Howard Jr., Atlanta Constitution; Florida, L. S. Brown, St. Petersburg Independent; Arkansas, E. A. Engel, Little Rock Democrat and Arkansas; Alabama, James E. Chapell, Birmingham News and Age-Herald.

More than three hours were spent this morning in discussions of labor. "You are lying, don't try to conceal your mistakes," shouted one enraged delegate as Rykoff pleaded he always had favored the maximum tempo of industrialization. "You are lying, don't try to conceal your mistakes," shouted one enraged delegate as Rykoff pleaded he always had favored the maximum tempo of industrialization.

"In your speech at the last communist congress," bawled another Stalin supporter, "you declared that no correct policy of the communist committee party could guarantee us a restoration of capitalism."

Rykoff replied: "I consider that statement as a mistake. It is not the responsibility of the communist party for the decision of the fourteenth party congress." Rykoff in 1921 was first assistant to Nikolai Lenin, who was then in power. He had been head of the council of national economy and later became vice president of the supreme council of labor and defense.

Through his speeches of retraction the three, Rykoff, Tomski and Uglanov, who resembled humble defendants on the witness stand, frequently were interrupted with derisive and sarcastic remarks. Uglanov clearly showed they had not much chance of acquittal before such a hostile audience.

"Some of the speeches here," said Rykoff pathetically, "seem to indicate that you mistrust us and believe we continue our struggle against the central committee. It is not possible to fight to fight secretly against a party of 2,000,000 members?"

Even this failed to gain the soviet premier the favor of the huge gathering. It remained for Comrade Kiroff, secretary of the Leningrad branch of the party, to express only on the floor of the assembly the real attitude of the party as a whole on the repentance of the right wing leaders.

Now that the central committee's program has been fully vindicated by events it is not difficult to admit our mistakes. Even Lloyd George regards the five-year plan as "not only a mistake, but a disaster." Henry Ford has issued statements to admit our mistakes. (The five-year plan is the industrial and agricultural expansion program.)

"The leaders of the right wing, after their famous recantations, should have defended with the greatest determination the program of the party and waged a consistent struggle against the right wing elements. We have not seen the least sign of such a struggle."

"Bucharin is absent from the congress. He is said to be ill, but certainly he could find a way to state his views upon party affairs at the present time. He is a man of great talent, which naturally arouses our suspicion and mistrust."

Kiroff, one of Stalin's staunchest supporters, said the right wing of the party was "a right wing of their opposition was wholly repulsive with membership in the party which henceforth would conduct even greater measures against the right wing."

Washington, July 1.—(AP)—So the commander-in-chief may move about among his forces to direct maneuvers and yet retain the full leadership strength in the line, the navy today announced that the battleship, by fast 10,000-ton cruisers are to be flagships.

It was decided upon before the London naval conference, when it became apparent that efforts would be made to limit the number of capital ships. Under the old policy, if a commander-in-chief wanted to command from the line, a battleship thus would have been removed from the combat.

With cruisers as flagships, commanders will have the advantage of about 32 knots speed, a maximum of 22 on a battleship as well as the ability to withdraw because of an emergency and yet retain the full battleship strength in the combat.

The Chicago, now under construction at the Mare Island navy yard, will replace the battleship USS Oregon as flagship of the commander-in-chief of the United States fleet; the Augusta, building at Newport News, Va., will replace the battleship USS Oregon as flagship of the scouting fleet; the USS Tennessee, which will become flagship of the Atlantic fleet commander, replacing the obsolete Pittsburgh, which now is 25 years old.

$1,000 IN CASH PRIZES FOR THE

Reproduced, on these two pages are four auction bridge hands; the top is SOUTH or Dealer; the second, WEST; the third, NORTH, and the fourth, EAST. The play is to be at regular auction bridge. Dealer bids... others in rotation. This is the eleventh of a series of twelve bridge hands, being offered to readers of The Atlanta Constitution, a different hand appearing in this newspaper each Wednesday for twelve weeks. To the contestants making the highest scores in the twelve games played, $1,000 in CASH prizes will be awarded. Please read these rules carefully so that no misunderstanding will ensue.

- 1—Hands are to be played with ordinary playing cards. The auction bridge hands reproduced above are merely to denote hands to be used by the players.
- 2—In bidding, there is to be no doubling. A revoke disqualifies the hand.
- 3—Special Tally sheets are to be used in keeping scores, and these tally sheets are issued FREE to contestants and can be secured only from the firms co-operating in this contest. There are no obligations of any kind and contestants can secure tally sheets simply for the asking. A different tally sheet is to be used each week. Go to any of the 55 firms represented on these two pages, and they will be pleased to give you a tally sheet for the week games are to be played. Get your tally sheet from a different firm each week—get acquainted with all of the advertisers on these two pages.

- 4—Write neatly and concisely just how you played your hand. This is very important. Prizes will be awarded for individual effort. Submission of answers identical in their description of the manner of play will be considered sufficient evidence of collusion and result in the elimination of any such answers from further consideration. There is a special place for writing the outline of play on the Tally Sheet.

- 5—The following is a list of prizes to be offered winners making the highest scores and offering the clearest explanation of play in this Auction Bridge Contest:

6—IMPORTANT NOTICE! Should any contestant winning a prize, accompany the tally sheets with sales receipts, showing that purchases were made from at least 12 of the advertisers co-operating in this contest during the time this contest is on, the PRIZES ARE DOUBLED. For example:—Should contestant be adjudged winner of First Prize of $250.00 and sales receipts from at least twelve different co-operating firms accompany the tally sheets, the prize awarded will be $500.00; the Second Prize will be $200.00 instead of $100.00; the Third Prize $100.00 instead of $50.00 and so on.

7—Do NOT send in single tally sheets . . . wait until you have all twelve, then wrap neatly, and bring, send or mail to The Atlanta Constitution, addressed to the BRIDGE CONTEST EDITOR.

8—Selection of winners will be made by Mrs. Annie Adair Foster, Atlanta's great bridge expert, and her decision on all points shall be considered final. If the explanation of play indicates that little or no attempt was made by adversaries to play their hands with ordinary skill and that as a result of such playing an abnormal score resulted, such score shall not be credited to the contestant. The best defense available must be used.

9—Readers of The Atlanta Constitution are urged to scan closely every advertisement appearing on these two pages. Each announcement is a superior value or offering and will profit the reader greatly. Do not overlook a single announcement, but read them all. And remember—when you make a purchase at any of the shops co-operating in this contest, ask for sales receipts, and send them in with your Bridge Scores, thus qualifying for a double prize. The Bridge Editor of The Atlanta Constitution will be pleased to give contestants any additional information regarding the contest, at any time. Improve your Bridge by entering this contest now.

10—It is not too late to get started in the contest. Details of the bridge hands already published may be secured from The Constitution. Get them, then get tally sheets for all of the games from the firms advertising on these pages. Get started now and win your share of the big cash prizes.

AT CANDLER FIELD

A representative contingent of Candler field fliers—some of them with hope of winning prize money in the Atlanta-Gainesville derby and others going along merely to take in the meet and the entertainment which Gainesville is certain to offer—will take off at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, bound for the two-day air race program which the north Georgia city has arranged in conjunction with its Georgia American Legion convention. Along with the schedule of aerial events, Gainesville will dedicate its municipal airport, now vastly improved by the addition of a new runway and by the smoothing-up of the entire field.

Included in the group which will leave here Friday are Doug Davis and George Shealy, both of whom will Georgia airmen are slated to be on hand.

Taking his first airplane ride on his seventy-fifth birthday and liking it fine, Dr. T. J. Smith, of College Park, formerly widely known educator, Tuesday soared far above Atlanta, marveled at the modern development of aircraft and wished he were young enough to fly one himself. In taking to the air for the first time—in the Stinson Junior monoplane of the Blevins Aircraft Corporation, piloted by E. W. Hightower—Dr. Smith was indulging in a pleasure long deferred and which he finally decided to give himself as a "birthday present." He now plans to fly as frequently as possible. Dr. Smith was accompanied on the Friday flight by R. E. Lee, Eastern Air Transport mechanic.

"Pinch-hitting" for Leo C. Wilson, department of commerce inspector in this district, who is recuperating in a Memphis hospital following an emergency appendicitis operation, G. A. Candler, chief of the inspection service for the department, arrived Friday in a Verville Air coach, the first plane of its type, incidentally, to be seen on Candler field. Mr. Candler, who is almost constantly on the road, rather than the wing—the right-hand man of J. S. Marriott, head of the department's work. He expects to be in Atlanta for about 15 days, or until Mr. Wilson has recovered to the point of resuming his duties here.

At the controls of the Blevins Aircraft Corporation's Lycoming-powered Stinson Junior, Chief Pilot E. W. Hightower will take off early this morning for Brunswick, with Mrs. John H. Candler, wife of the president of the corporation, as passenger. Mrs. Candler is to pay a visit to Sea Island Beach and other south Georgia coast resorts. Hightower will return to Atlanta late this afternoon, weather permitting, or Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa G. Candler, Jr., taking part today in the elaborate welcome which Atlantans are giving to New York and New Yorkers themselves will accord this city's best known bar-barrier, will fly back to Candler field Thursday afternoon. It was said at the field Tuesday. On the flight north, which was begun early Monday morning, Beeler Blevins made the better-than-80-mile hop in less than five hours, non-stop, for an average of about 178 miles an hour.

Announcement of opening of Chattanooga's new $250,000 municipal airport, Lovell field, Friday, is great news indeed to fliers generally, but particularly to Interstate Airlines' mail pilots, who have been harassed for 10, these many months, by the short Marr field, which formerly served as the city's airport. Lovell field is one of the best equipped in the south. Though the new field's first plane made a landing Monday night, formal dedication will not take place until Thursday night, when city officials and aviation leaders of the east Tennessee metropolis will take part in an elaborate program.

28 ROBBERY CASES REPORTED IN 2 DAYS

Mrs. Paul Clement Loses Purse to Negro in Terminal Station.

When a negro walked up to Mrs. Paul Clement, of 861 Rock Spring road, in the middle of the Terminal station Tuesday night and snatched her purse containing $6 in cash and her eye-glasses, it was the 28th robbery reported to the police since Monday morning. The negro vanished.

Another report Tuesday included the robbery of the Jones avenue pharmacy, when watches, dice and flash-lights totaling $50 were stolen, R. P. Nicholson, the operator, said. In one of the other 27 robberies, that of a negro, Jim Lawrence, arrested, trial and a fine of $25 followed the discovery by detectives in ambush of Lawrence conveying a gallon of milk which he had gathered in an early morning raid. Other losses reported included: $10 in cash from the Woco-Pep filling station at 301 Ponce de Leon avenue; a grocery at 506 Marietta street, $30 worth of groceries; several suits of clothing from the Hubert Dry Cleaning Company at 487 Piedmont avenue; a motorcycle repair shop at 420 Peachtree street was entered, loss undetermined; J. W. Hightower, Jr., 338 Forrest avenue, and J. L. Allen, 449 Seminole avenue, quantity of clothing; C. G. Shugart, of Columbus, a suitcase filled with clothes from his parked car, and G. W. Avery, of 227 Wilbur street, a box of tools.

EARL BEATTY ATTACKS LONDON NAVAL TREATY

Admiral of British Fleet Says England Loses Power.

LONDON, July 1.—(P)—The navy's own viewpoint of London's part in the recent naval conference today was communicated by the admiral of the fleet, Earl Beatty, and Lord Jellicoe, war-time sea lord, to the house of lords in vigorous attacks upon the treaty conclusions.

Earl Beatty, who is easily England's most prominent naval figure, assailed the treaty declaring Britain the only nation that made any disarmament or reduction and that the reduction made was so great as to render her impotent and incapable of maintaining control over the various states of her far-flung empire.

The earl's denunciation of the treaty contained a reference to use of the fleet for a far eastern contingency. This was taken by observers to indicate that the home government had not overlooked the possibility of a necessity for sending warships—possibly a fleet—to India.

Earl Beatty said the London naval treaty had resulted in an increase of the United States' increase being 233,000 tons, Japan's 10 per cent of her strength and France being left without any restriction whatever. France, the speaker said, already had built three 10,000-ton cruisers, is building three more and has authorized ten others, while Italy had built two, is building four and has authorized one. Admiral Beatty severely criticized the admiral for formulating a naval policy that did not take into consideration the possibility, however remote, of a naval attack on the part of the United States.

"Treaties themselves," Earl Jellicoe said, "do not always give security and safety. I'm anxious to know the reasons which have induced the admiralty and the government to cut down the number of cruisers from 70 to 50."

Lord Beatty said it was a most "inexplicable thing" because 70 cruisers until recently had been declared by the admiralty to be an irreducible minimum for its needs.

"If we have to move our fleet to the far east," said Earl Beatty, "we will leave a force insufficient to safeguard our trade in the Mediterranean and home waters and we will be at the mercy of any power with greater naval strength in the Mediterranean."

Earl Beatty said he could not believe that there could be a body of statesmen in the country who could deliberately sign away Great Britain's heritage or that it was possible that naval experts should give advice which would render the service to which they belonged incapable of performing its duties.

SHREVEPORT, La., July 1.—(P)—Just after cautioning his negro servants, as if in pleasant to "take care of the family," Albert C. Steere, president of the Shreveport real estate board, today retired to his private garden and shot himself through the heart.

prised by the shot and rushed from his palatial residence to find Steere dying. Mr. Steere left no note to explain the act. His business associates declared that his financial affairs were solvent. He had been suffering from insomnia and had been in ill health for several years.

Baltimorean Named To Shipping Group

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(P)—George S. Jackson, a Baltimore exporter, today was added by President Hoover to the commission of experienced men he is forming to inquire into the sale of Atlantic lines by the shipping board and advise upon the broader policies of merchant marine organizations.

It also was announced at the White House that Charles Piez, a Chicago engineer, who had been tentatively appointed, would be unable to serve because of ill health and another appointment would be made to bring the commission up to the proposed six members.

Those already named, in addition to Jackson, are Edward N. Hurley, of Chicago, former chairman of the shipping board; H. E. Dalton, of Cleveland, who conducted a shipping investigation for President Coolidge in 1925; Ira A. Campbell, of New York, former admiralty counsel for the shipping board; and Clarence M. Woolley, of New York, president of the American Radiator Company.

Jackson is chairman of the board of the Western Maryland Dairy Company and has been engaged in the export business for 40 years. He is an independent democrat and served under President Hoover in the food administration.

The commission will inquire particularly into the bids for the Black Diamond and Cosmopolitan lines and into the character of ships to be constructed under government loans.

British Flier Plans Trans-Atlantic Hop

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 1.—(P)—Squadron Leader Wynne Eytton, of the royal air force reserve, was here today with a Puss Moth monoplane which he was preparing for a hop from Harbor Grace to St. Lawrence, London. He said he was waiting for the full moon of July 10 to try the first west-east crossing of the Atlantic in 1930.

Eytton arrived here last night from London with his plane. It will be assembled on Lester's field, from which Aleck and Brown, English fliers, made the first successful trans-Atlantic flight in 1919.

Eytton has had 16 years of flying experience. He flew in France during the World War and has also flown in Africa and India. He is 35 years old and is full of enthusiasm and confidence that he will make a successful crossing.

Firebug Is Hunted In Morrison Blaze

Detectives continued Tuesday efforts to locate "fire bugs" suspected of robbing and then setting fire to the Morrison funeral home, 811 Park street shortly after midnight Monday. They announced Tuesday that the front door to the home had been forced open and entrance into the house effected that way.

Mrs. W. F. Morrison, who, with her husband, operates the establishment, announced that they would continue business temporarily at Barclay & Brandon's.

Fines Are Imposed In 33 Traffic Cases

Motorists who ignore red lights and one who failed to stop at a Boulevard street signal frog were included in a list of 33 traffic violators who paid a total of $283 into the city's coffers Tuesday after hearings in police court.

Out of 40 cases heard at three sessions of court, 33 defendants were convicted. Eleven were fined for illegal parking, 6 for speeding, 6 for reckless driving, 2 for driving by a red stop light and the one offender who failed to stop at an intersection. The highest fine was imposed upon a speeder and was $25.

ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 2, 1930.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Waves of consternation spread through the Vanderbilt hotel this afternoon when a thunderstorm broke over downtown New York.

For an hour it rained hard and then settled down to a drizzle. The folks from home sat back and gaped. Suppose it rained Wednesday. What then, with all the linen suits freshly washed and the Panama hats and sports shoes cleaned and everybody keyed up to have a grand time?

Frantic calls to the headquarters office in Room 816 revealed that the demonstration would go on just the same, rain or shine.

A welcome is never called on account of wet grounds. If rain peppers Bobby and his friends as they ride up the street in turn-back carriages it will be just so much oil in the can for the hotel valet.

But it would really be too bad if the day happened to be rough and a bit of a sea were running. One of the civic yachts would act up in the face of a nice set of rollers coming in from the Atlantic.

And if and when the small boat begins to pitch and roll I fear for the complacency of the folks from back home. Riding all this far on a train through torrid weather is no sort of training for a ride out into a bay full of white caps.

REPORTS OF BOBBY'S DELAY.

Word at the Vanderbilt tonight was that the Europa was delayed by the fog outside. There was no telling when it would get in. Reports ranged all the way from 11 a. m., eastern standard time to 6 o'clock daylight saving time which means who knows in Atlanta chronometric parlance.

The Atlanta party has been instructed to board the Mandalay at Pier No. 1 at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. That much of the welcome will go on schedule.

Having assembled the extras for the mob scene it does not matter what time the leading man reports, just so he gets in time for the banquet in his honor Wednesday evening.

NIGHT BASEBALL.

R. B. Wilby, a theater magnate, gave a good angle on the night baseball racket in a fanning party coming up on the special train.

"Of course baseball club owners are going to turn to night baseball eventually," he said, "because it will make it possible to collect two admissions for one doubleheader.

"For instance, they will play an afternoon game July 4 and an evening game. Rained out games will be played in the afternoon and regular games in the evening. And every time they open the park they will collect an admission fee. You get the point—night baseball is certain not only in the minor leagues but in the majors as well."

STRIB SHARES SPOTLIGHT.

Young Stribling still shares the conversational spotlight with Bobby Jones these days. His quick knockout of Von Porat almost convinced the home folks that he was ready to go places and do things.

But fans keep asking, "How good is he, anyhow?" One answer might be: Sharkey refused to fight Tuffy Griffith in Miami last winter. Von Porat cudgeled this same Tuffy Griffith. And Stribling knocked out Von Porat.

THE DEFENDANT TAKES THE STAND.

Max Schmeling's charge that the lenient attitude of the New York state boxing commission toward fouls and their refusal to penalize Jack Sharkey and others for fouling is responsible for the present sad state of affairs in Fisticia, is not without good sense.

Max opined further that if he had fouled Sharkey it would have been just too bad; and that Sharkey never would have been asked to defend his title again in a few months.

In other words, Maxie hinted in a round about way that he considered Sharkey to be the fair-haired boy of the New York board and of Madison Square Garden. Which sort of makes it unanimous.

QUOTATIONS HIGH ON SPORTSMANSHIP.

On the other hand, Schmeling's willingness to give Sharkey another chance at the crown in September is hailed in some quarters as a shining example of good sportsmanship, a return of former glory, if any, to boxing.

But for being a good sport and giving Sharkey another chance Maxie would be paid $250,000. That is a pretty fair price for sportsmanship. Many athletes get exactly $250,000 less than that.

THE MARTYR MARKET.

And Sharkey is held up in the role of a martyr for being willing to take a cut in his share of the purse for just one more chance.

Allowing for all cuts, Sharkey would stand to profit $80,000. Many have been martyrs for a much smaller figure than $80,000.

In fact, who would refuse to be exude a lot of self-sacrifice for that sum. Don't all speak at once.

No matter how gaily the old game is painted, it still will not stand close inspection.

"No Fouls? Use Bats!" Proposes Frank Getty

By Frank Getty,
United News Sport Editor.

NEW YORK, July 1.—(UN)—Just when everything was ready for the signing of contracts for a return bout between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey in September, the New York state athletic commission, with its happy faculty for doing the wrong thing at practically any time, tossed a monkey-wrench into the machinery today.

The commission decided that hereafter no fouls, no low blows, shall count in this state. It will be up to each boxer to equip himself with what he considers adequate abdominal armor—and go on fighting, no matter where he is hit. If a boxer stays down more than 10 seconds from the effects of a low blow, he will be counted out.

This, of course, is casting to the winds one of the first principles laid down for boxing by the Marquis of Queensberry; namely, that you must not hit below the belt. Somehow this expression has crept into the language as a symbol of fair and foul play.

PAD 'EM UP.
The commission says to pad the boys up and let them go to it. The only penalty to be exacted from a boxer striking low is to be the loss of the round in which the "foul," or whatever it now can be called, occurs.

This new rule is certain to complicate matters for those who are attempting to bring Schmeling and Sharkey together in September. It may cause abandonment of the return fight entirely. Before sailing for home Max

Crackers Win, 8-4, To Run Streak To Six Games GREAT WELCOME AWAITS BOB

New York All Set To Give Bobby King's Welcome Today

in one of the big cities of the east. A similar welcome awaits Bobby today, he being scheduled to ride through the showers of ticker tape and confetti as a great city roars its welcome. The insert shows Bobby after one of his recent victories.

RACING DRIVERS REACH ATLANTA

Haughdahl Is Latest Entry for Lakewood Speed Features.

Six auto race speed demons who will compete in the Lakewood July 4-5 auto races arrived in Atlanta Tuesday to hear that Sig Haughdahl, great veteran dirt track star, had entered the Independence Day auto races.

Haughdahl's entry was welcomed by the speed fans but it was poison to Swan Peterson, Shano Fitzgerald, Jumbo Jack Johnson, Jimmy Trainor, Leo "Champ" Young and Junie Bracken, all of whom arrived in the city yesterday from points west, north and south and started putting the final touches on the racing creations.

"Crash" Waller, who had arrived in the city Friday and entered the events yesterday morning, was less concerned with the Haughdahl entry than were any of the other drivers.

"Haughdahl's entry doesn't change my mind about winning the Dixie motor derby," said Peterson. "I intend to do it again this year, but of course the task will be much harder with Sig in the fray."

Friday's entry list has already reached the 13 mark with over half of the drivers in the city already.

Grapevine reports are that Jimmy Trainor, the Illinois "wildman," may be the dark horse in the races. Trainor looks the part of a real race driver and has a big reputation up north. Some of the boys said they would test out their cars on the track this afternoon. Workmen are shaping the course and putting on tons of calcium chloride to keep down the dust.

NO DECISION.

NEW YORK, July 1.—(AP)—Trustees of the Muldoon-Tunney heavy-weight championship trophy met today but took no action on the vexing question of whether Max Schmeling's name shall be inscribed on the trophy.

Niehoff May Replace Speaker at Newark

Bert Niehoff, former manager of the Crackers, is being mentioned in connection with the management of the Newark baseball club, lately vacated by Tris Speaker, who resigned.

Niehoff has made no application but certain baseball men in the east are working on it in behalf of the veteran manager, who is one of the best baseball men in the game. Niehoff had nothing to say beyond the fact that he heard that some friends had recommended him for the job.

The former Cracker skipper, and the man who won the first Dixie championship for the Southern league, is a popular figure in baseball.

CRACKERS WIN SIXTH IN ROW

Bears Suffer Fifth Straight Loss, 8-4, at Spiller Field.

By Ralph McGill.

Digging in desperately on their newly gained territory in the first division, the Crackers trampled the much-trampled Bears Tuesday afternoon in the fifth straight victory over that team, the score being 8 to 4.

The Crackers, having defeated the New Orleans club in the last game of that series, now have a winning streak that has grown to six straight games.

They increased their still slim hold on fourth place Tuesday by winning while the Lookouts were idle. The Crackers are now within striking distance of second place and not entirely out of consideration for first position. They are now a game and a half behind the Barons.

Mobile started Carl Black, an old-timer who was with Birmingham in 1922, and the Crackers rammed him off the mound in one inning. Five tallies scampered over in the first inning.

OLDHAM OFF FORM.
Red Oldham, who started for the Crackers, was in poor form after a rest and could not halt even the Bears. They knocked him out in the fourth inning with a winning run on base.

Pitch Howard, who followed, pitched great ball to hold the Bears scoreless. The situation illustrates the unfairness of the scoring rules. Oldham, had he continued, would undoubtedly have lost, yet the technicalities of the rules make him the winning pitcher.

Howard, a recent acquisition in a deal with Chattanooga, worked well and encouraged Johnny Dobbs a little.

LEONARD TIGHT.
The Crackers were not able to do much with offerings of Leonard, who followed Black to the mound. If there was any punch on the Bear club they might win behind pitching such as Leonard gave them.

They had no punch at all and the Crackers coasted along, making runs when it was convenient. The feature of the afternoon was the fielding of The Apple Of Your Eye, Luke Appling, and that of Bob Lamotte, the Sonora star. He is the Bosco at third because he eats 'em alive.

APPLING BUSY.
Luke Appling ranged further than a man on horseback. He reached hard-hit balls that no other shortstop could have got near. He forced one Bear runner at second with a play which saw him go a yard past second base to get the ball.

He is a Bear, that boy, even if he doesn't belong to Jimmy

Crackers' June Record Shows .667 Average

Club Climbs From Seventh Place to First Division in One Month.

By Ralph McGill.

After staggering through April and reeling through May, the Crackers absolutely marched through June, winning 22 games and losing 12 for an average of .667 for the month, unless the office statistician be wrong, and he insists he isn't.

No club in the league has an average superior to that for the past month. It does appear that John Dobbs has his team on an even keel once more.

Playing Mobile, an admittedly weak sister, has sort of clouded the record for the month. The Crackers were playing good ball before they met the Bears. Only New Orleans and Memphis, the two leaders, brought any unusual grief to the club and the Crackers played them closely, the edge being small.

No club had such a wet firecracker start as the Crackers. They lost eight straight games before they won one. This brought on a loosening of morale and an epidemic of changes.

DOBBS LISTENS.
Johnny Dobbs vaulted from Texas to the coast in his selection of replacements. He listened here and he listened there and he took almost anyone who said he could play ball.

All this took time and then, as the collegiate aid arrived in the shape of Luke Appling, the apple of your eye, and Red Barron, injuries smote the Crackers. Barron was put out by an injury. Grimes was hurt at first. Had it not been for the sterling utility play of Jimmy Johnston during those perilous times the Crackers might have broken to pieces. Jim Johnston played third, the outfield and first base. No, not at one and the same time, but he certainly was handy.

Johnny Dobbs was quite cheerful about the club after the Tuesday game.

CONFIDENT.
"I think we will keep winning," he said. "We are just a game and a half behind Birmingham and New Orleans is not going so well as it was. Our whole attitude is changed now and the club seems to have steadied down."

"We should win a majority of the three games left with Mobile. If we do we will be well over the .500 mark in percentage. A team playing .500 baseball is a winning team. I think our average speaks for itself."

The Crackers meet Chattanooga on Saturday and on Monday go to Birmingham for the first of two games there. They return home on Wednesday for games with Nashville to be followed again by the Lookouts.

NO DEAL.
Dobbs declares that he has no deal on at present. He expects, however, to sign Hot Holcomb, former Ogdenthorpe pitcher, this morning. Holcomb worked out Monday and showed a great knuckle ball.

"He has one of the best knuckle

NEW YORK SET FOR RECEPTION THIS AFTERNOON

250 Atlantans Now On Hand To Receive Their Hero.

NEW YORK, July 1.—(AP)—By train and by airplane, up from the land where the golfers grow, came 250 beaming Georgians today to see Atlanta's most prominent citizen get a Broadway welcome.

On the excursion steamer Mandalay they'll go down the bay tomorrow and watch Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., British open and amateur and American open golf champion, taken from the liner Europa aboard New York city's welcoming yacht, the Macom.

Up "the trail of glory" where the ticker-tape flies, from the Battery to city hall, they will follow him to stand cheering in the background while Mayor James J. Walker tells him that New York is proud of him, too.

And then—after New York gets through with him—deputy take young Bobby over to the Hotel Vanderbilt tomorrow night for the kind of welcome-home dinner that only one's home folks know how to give.

ARRIVING ALL DAY.

All day today they were arriving in New York, about 100 from Georgia, with their soft, musical speech.

Seventy-five came in on "The Bobby Jones Special," which left Atlanta yesterday carrying to Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., from Robert Tyre Jones, III, the following message:

"Tell him I can whistle now." More arrived during the afternoon in airplanes at Newark airport, and a whole lot more by train during the afternoon and evening.

PARTY OFFICIALS.

Mayor J. N. Ragdale, of Atlanta, officially headed the delegation on "The Bobby Jones Special," but the real boss was a gentleman named Robert B. Jones, the champion's father. Mrs. Jones arrived on another train late this afternoon.

Major John S. Cohen, editor of The Atlanta Journal, head of the Atlanta welcoming committee, Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech; R. J. Spiller, of the Atlanta baseball club, of which Bobby Jones is an officer, and several directors of the First National Bank of Atlanta also were aboard.

While he was in Europe Bobby Jones was elected a director of the First National Bank of Atlanta, one of the biggest banks in the south. He is its youngest director.

New York's welcome starts about 11 o'clock (E. S. T.) tomorrow, when Bobby is taken aboard the Macom from the liner Europa at quarantine. Tugs, yachts, fireboats and airplanes will help to make memorable the trip to the harbor, and the celebration will be described through New York's own radio station, WNYC, via the city's short wave station, W2CD, toward the Macom. The reception at the city hall is set for 3:30, and the Atlanta dinner for 7:30.

Woman Manager To Continue Fight

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 1.—(AP)

The vote of confidence given Keneaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, at the Chicago meeting of American Association officials, seemed to indicate that the Milwaukee club's suit to retain Red Bennett, outfielder, despite Landis' orders, would be dropped. Miss Florence Killen, president of the Brewers, said tonight:

"The vote of confidence was very nice," she said, "but we can't win ball games that way. The judge can have the votes, we can't."

Suit was instituted to retain Bennett after Landis ordered him back to the St. Louis Browns on the ground he had been optioned contrary to regulations.

Association Bans Split Season.

CHICAGO, July 1.—The American Association today voted against a proposed split season and pledged anew its allegiance and adherence to final decisions handed down by Keneaw Mountain Landis, his commissioner of organized baseball.

Rejection of the split season proposal was a big surprise as an unofficial canvass before today's meeting indicated the club owners were overwhelmingly in favor of adoption.

The allegiance pledge to Commissioner Landis, made in a special resolution, indicated the suit filed in federal court by the Milwaukee club, to restrain enforcement of Landis' transfer order on Outfielder Bennett, of that club, would be withdrawn. President Thomas J. Hickey, of the American association, refused to comment on that angle, however.

HELEN JACOBS IS ELIMINATED

By Frank H. King.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 1.—(AP)—The unexpected downfall of Helen Jacobs, America's second ranking tennis player, at the hands of Cecilie Ausen, of Germany, featured play in the British championships today but failed to prevent the United States from landing two of its representatives in the semi-final round of the women's singles.

Miss Jacobs, sadly off her game and lacking in stamina, was eliminated in the quarter finals in straight sets to the tune of 6-2, 6-1, as the little German star stuck to her guns, played steady tennis and allowed the American to beat herself.

As though to make up for Miss

'Strib' Here Today En Route to England

The W. L. Striblings, "Young" and "Pa," will be in Atlanta today en route to New York where they will remain until Friday night when they will sail for London and the fight with Phil Scott on July 28 at Wimbledon stadium.

W. L.'s injured wrist is improving and they hope to go on with the fight without a postponement. "Pa" has been swamped with offers for fights since W. L. knocked out Otto Von Porat in Chicago a few days ago. Newark, N. J., has made the best offer to date and it is likely that this proposition will be taken up when the Striblings return from Europe.

W. L. will go into the Scott fight a favorite and if he wins, as he is expected to, he will be more than ever the leading contender for the crown worn by Max Schmeling, who won it "on the floor."

Cards and Terrors Lead Sandlitters

Legion Baseball Elimination Fast Drawing To Close in Atlanta.

With the elimination tournament for Atlanta's American Legion teams in the Sandlot league rapidly nearing its close, present standings show two teams with one leg on a place in the semi-final round, two teams which must turn in double victories to win one of those places, and four which stand even—with neither victory nor defeat yet appearing on their records.

The Inman Park Cardinals, last year's winners who cut a wide path through teams of Atlanta, Georgia, the southeast and finally the south before being downed in the final round of the Washington (D. C.) divisional meet, and the Northside Terrors, another powerful squad, each stand one up in the quarter-final play. The Kirkwood Vols and the Murphy Eagles are each one down.

The Smyrna Juniors, the Roseland Peaches, the Grant Park Aces and the Rinky-Dinks have yet to meet in the quarter-finals.

Play is being conducted on a two-out-of-three basis, teams being forced to prove their superiority quite effectively before being allowed to go on to new fields.

The Cards, continuing their spectacular winning brand of ball, subdued the Vols effectively by a 12-to-4 count in one of the games played Tuesday, while the Terrors started their march to the semi-finals with a 9-5 victory over the Eagles.

The Grant Park Aces and the Rinky-Dinks, forced to transfer their game from Spiller field to Piedmont, were separated as a result by the flail. The teams, and the members of the teams, could not get together in a glorious mix-up so that a no-contest verdict was returned. A double-header is planned for the next playing date, July 8.

The Smyrna Juniors had their right to participate in quarter-final play by winning a great 3-2 decision from the East Side Robins Tuesday. The teams stood at one-all in their series, the Robins having taken the first game. A determined stand by the Juniors evened the count last Friday and another sent them into the quarter-finals.

East Side Robins, 100 010 000—6 2
Smyrna Juniors, 100 010 000—15 10
Kirkwood Vols, 100 010 000—11 3
Northside Terrors, 100 010 000—14 6
Murphy Eagles, 100 010 000—14 6
Grant Park Aces, 100 010 000—14 6
Rinky-Dinks, 100 010 000—14 6
Roseland Peaches, 100 010 000—14 6

Miss Ryan, veteran California player who makes her home in England, came through to the semi-finals along with the defending champion, Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, Fraulien Aussem and Madame Rene Mathieu, eliminated an English Leuglen's old place as the first ranking feminine player of France.

Miss Ryan had been conceded Betty Nuttall, of England, came through her experience and more varied game finally prevailed by scores of 6-2, 2-6, 6-0. Mrs. Moody overhauled England's latest champion, Mrs. Phyllis Mulford, 6-1, 6-2, and Madame Mathieu disposed of Joan Ridley, of England, as easily, 6-2, 6-1.

In the semi-finals tomorrow Miss Ryan will try to succeed where Miss Jacobs failed against Fraulien Aussem, while Queen Helen will oppose Madame Mathieu.

DOUBLE PLAY.
In doubles also Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan forged into the semi-final round. This strong combination, which recently won the French championship, eliminated an English team of Mrs. Randolph Lyett and Mrs. J. E. Hill, 6-0, 6-0. Edith Cross, San Francisco, and Sarah Palfrey, Boston, defeated Mrs. M. A. O. Mayne and Mrs. V. N. Montgomery, England, 7-5, 6-4.

In singles it was ladies' day, but in doubles two powerful teams of youthful United States Davis Cup players as well as the American-Dutch alliance of Bill Tilden and Hans Timmer advanced.

Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, the defending champions, won from Harry Austin and J. S. Olliff of England, 6-2, 5-7, 7-5, 7-5, while George Lott, Chicago, and John Doe, Santa Monica, Cal., the American titleholders, won two matches to join them in the semi-finals.

NEAR EXHAUSTION.
Lott and Doe were close to exhaustion after their two tough matches in which they defeated C. E. Maffroy and R. D. Polard, English players, 7-5, 2-6, 14-12, 6-3, and then put out the Australian Davis Cup pair consisting of Jim Willard and Harry Hopman, 6-4, 6-2, 6-8, 8-11.

The victory of Tilden and Timmer was scored at the expense of the American Davis Cup youngsters, Berkeley-Bell and Gregory Mangin, at 7-5, 8-6, 6-2. Jean Borotra and the young French countryman, Christian Bousse, downed Jack Crawford and E. F. Moon, Australia, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1, 5-7, 6-4.

In the men's singles tomorrow Borotra meets Tilden and Allison and Timmer Doe for the right to enter the final round.

DAVISCOURT MEETS 'JEM'

Frank Judson here than he has ever looked before.

LONDON'S GOOD HERE.
In all his wrestling career London has lost but twice in Atlanta. He lost about four years ago to Joe Stecher and to Daviscourt. He later defeated Daviscourt in a return match. That has been his history. They seem to be two evenly matched men.

Daviscourt has been wrestling on the coast all season, coming to the east about a month ago. One of his first matches was in Atlanta, where he defeated Charley Fox, the "Cleveland egg" with ease. Last week he started fans by his easy victory over Milo Steinborn, the world's strongest wrestler.

Daviscourt is in better shape than he has ever been before. He beat the best on the coast. He has shown himself to be of positive championship caliber.

POWERFUL MAN.

GAINESVILLE ALL SET FOR TERRAPIN DERBY
GAINESVILLE, Ga., July 1.—More than 1,000 terrapins are expected to enter the famous terrapin derby to be run here on the afternoon of July 4 at City Park. Farmers from all over the county are coming in and selling terrapins on the square. More than 100 terrapins were entered in the first three hours after the books were opened. The entries are having their backs painted this week and they will be numbered as they are entered. The derby, the first one ever held this side of the Mississippi, is one of the features of the American Legion convention to be held here this week.

Paramount Is Key Theater of Division

Public Theaters Corporation, in spending $100,000 on alterations and improvements for the Paramount theater, is considering not only Atlanta, but their entire southeastern territory, according to Willard C. Patterson, division manager.

The Paramount theater here is regarded as the key city for the entire territory by the New York office. Mr. Patterson explained, and it is, therefore, the aim of the company to present the finest procurable pictures as near to ideal surroundings as possible here. This is so that the other theaters of the division may have ideal presentation results as a guide to the showing of the pictures when they reach them or after the showing in Atlanta. Similar conditions exist in regard to the new stage and presentation which will be included in the programs after the reopening of the remodeled house next Saturday.

The opening program Saturday will include "Byrd at the South Pole," as the screen feature; "Valentines on Parade," leading the stage program, and Lou Forbes and his grand orchestra in a presentation overture, and Lou Forbes and his grand orchestra in a presentation overture, "The Fortune Teller."

Implication of the story of "The Czar of Broadway," talking picture previewed by critics Tuesday morning, is that there is a newspaper reporter who is about to write the life of the late Arnold Rothstein that anyone else. Of course it is merely a picture plot and probably doesn't mean anything in real life.

But Universal's production coming next week to the Capitol, was certainly inspired by the killing of Rothstein, the notorious New York gambler. The "Czar" of the plot is character patently drawn upon the aforesaid Arnold. And, according to the story of the picture, there was a gambler who was closer to the big gambler's confidence than anyone else—a reporter who had wormed his way into the "crazes" favor of the gambler to get a "story."

It is a thrilling picture, with lots of punch and suspense. It is well directed and well played. The cast includes John Wray—who the way, was the hater of German drill sergeant in "All Quiet on the Western Front." Betty Compson and John Harron. Betty Compson as the star cabaret entertainer of the picture, and John Wray as the reporter who is so close to the big gambler's confidence that he is able to get a "story."

There is, of course, lots of gunplay. Professional killers and crooked gamblers are essential to such a story. And there is a cold-blooded inevitability about the "crazes" habit of selling themselves to an insurance policy before ordering their assassination that is awesome in its effect. But wouldn't the insurance companies get suspicious of the strange fatality attending such an agent's risks?

The only incongruous touch in the picture is the manner in which the girl reporter identifies herself to the gambler. It is a presentation overture, and Lou Forbes and his grand orchestra in a presentation overture, "The Fortune Teller."

GEORGIA'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE ATTENDS CONVENTION

Governor Hardman, Family Are in Salt Lake City, Utah

Enjoying the picturesque topography of the far west, the rugged land, snow-capped mountains and the coolness of the mountain climate are Governor L. G. Hardman, chief executive of Georgia; Mrs. Hardman, first lady of the state; their charming daughters, Misses Josephine Hardman, Sue Colquitt Hardman and Emma Griffin Hardman, and their son, Lamartine G. Hardman, Jr. Governor Hardman is in attendance upon the twenty-second annual governors' convention, which is being held this year at the Utah hotel, in Salt Lake City, Utah, delegates from all over the United States being entertained by the state of Utah.

Upon their arrival in Chicago last Wednesday Governor Hardman and his family were met at the train by H. G. Franz, prominent Chicagoan, who is well known in Atlanta. They were taken on a motor tour of the city, and visited the Northwestern University, the Chicago University and the Institute of Applied Science. The Georgia party was entertained at luncheon at the Country Club, and were honor guests at an elaborate dinner party given that evening at the Edgewater Beach hotel. They left at midnight for Colorado Springs, Colo., where they spent Friday and visited the Cave of the Winds, Garden of the Gods and Pike's Peak. In writing of their trip to the peak, Miss Josephine Hardman described most vividly the climbing of the mountain, where they stopped on the wayside to play snow balls, while just below the valleys were filled with green grass and the most fragrant of midsummer flowers.

Today, as a part of the program planned for the entertainment of the delegates and their families, the entire party will leave for a trip of several days through the Grand canyon, where one of the meetings will be held. Following the culmination of the convention, Governor and Mrs. Hardman and their family will make several other stops at interesting points before returning to Atlanta July 15.

Shackelford-Baldini Wedding To Be Held in New York July 24

Plans for the wedding of Miss Lucile Shackelford, daughter of T. D. Shackelford, to Gino A. Baldini, of Pleasantville, N. Y., manager of the 1929 Metropolitan opera presentation in Atlanta, are of interest. The marriage will be solemnized Thursday, July 24, at the Little Church Around the Corner in New York city. Miss Dorothy Du Mars, of Houston, Texas, will be the maid of honor. Dr. Edwin Smith, of Houston, Texas, has been chosen as the best man. Following the ceremony the young couple will leave for a motor trip through the New England states, making their home upon their return in Pleasantville, Westchester county, New York. Miss Shackelford, the daughter of T. D. Shackelford, of this city, is a native Atlantan and has resided here the greater part of her life. Following the completion of her primary education she was graduated from the Atlanta Conservatory of Music, where she specialized in piano. She is a pupil of Frank La Forge, of New York. Recently Miss Shackelford has been doing double piano work over WOR radio station, with Miss Dorothy Du Mars, of Houston, Texas, who is to be her maid of honor.

Mr. Baldini, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baldini, was born in Florence, Italy, later moving to London, where he made his home until the age of 21, when he came to America to make his home. Mr. Baldini has been identified with concert management for some time. He has been assistant manager of the New York Symphony orchestra and is at the present time manager of a concert bureau in New York city. He is widely known here through his management of the Metropolitan Grand Opera in 1929.

Prof. and Mrs. McCain Celebrate Golden Anniversary July 8

Professor and Mrs. John I. McCain, Due West, S. C., will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, July 8, and Dr. McCain will also celebrate the completion of 50 years of teaching. He taught one year in Tennessee, was superintendent of schools at Charlotte, N. C., for one year, and has been for the last 48 years professor at Erskine college, where he is head of the English department. He took his undergraduate work at Erskine and his Ph. D. degree at Princeton. He also holds the honorary degree of Litt. D. from the University of South Carolina and the L. L. D. from Presbyterian college.

Mrs. McCain, who was Lula Jane Todd, graduated from the Woman's college, now a part of Erskine, and she has been active in church work and in her interest in the students of the community. Three children are now living: James Ross McCain, president of Agnes Scott college; Dr. Paul Presley McCain, superintendent of the sanatorium and director of tuberculosis work in North Carolina; and Charles Lee McCain, agent of the New York Life Insurance Company, Birmingham, Ala. The two former are married and there are 11 grandchildren. Two daughters have died, Misses Irene and Mildred McCain.

Water Consumption In June Below 1929

Atlantans used 978,332,000 gallons of water last month in battling the heat wave, but this fell more than 16,000,000 gallons short of the consumption for the same period in 1929. Consumption for the June just passed was more than 32,000,000 gallons a day and was 70,000,000 in excess for the entire month of 1929.

Action Is Deferred On Palmetto Bus

Action on the petition of the Bus Express Service to operate between College Park and Palmetto, by way of Fairburn, was deferred until July 15 by the Georgia public service commission Tuesday. It was stated at the commission that receivers of the Inter-City line, part of whose route the express company proposes to take over, will make an effort to continue operation of the Inter-City line until that date.

Pryor St. Building Is Scene of Blaze

Slight damage was caused to the building formerly occupied by the John B. Daniel Drug Company, at Wall and Pryor streets Tuesday afternoon following a blaze that originated from undetermined sources, and which brought virtually every unit of fire apparatus in the city to the scene. Aside from congesting traffic in the area for about an hour, the fire caused little damage, the building being unoccupied.

City Tax Collections Begin To Mount Up

Municipal tax collections began to pile up Tuesday as the second installment on quarterly payments fell due at the city hall. Only from July 1 to 15 the installments may be paid without incurring interest charges. A discount of one-half of 1 per cent is allowed for payment for the full year within the 15-day period.

Distinguished Guests To Take Part In Legion Auxiliary Convention

GAINESVILLE, Ga., July 1.—A distinct feature of the American Legion Auxiliary convention which meets in Gainesville Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 2-5, will be the distinguished guests present to participate in the celebration. Mrs. James Maddox, of Rome, president of the state department, will preside at the sessions. The other state officers are: Miss Leila Summerall, of Waycross, first vice president; Mrs. H. J. Kennedy, of Barnesville, second vice president; Mrs. R. L. Callaway, secretary; Mrs. E. F. Travis, of Griffin, treasurer; Mrs. J. P. Mulberrin, of Augusta, chaplain; Mrs. J. M. Toomey, of Washington, historian; Mrs. Horace Holden, of Athens, national committeewoman; Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, of Atlanta, alternate national committeewoman.

Mrs. Ludwik Sztolcman To Be Honored.

Mrs. Ludwik Sztolcman, of Warsaw, Poland, who arrives Wednesday to be the charming guest of Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott at her home on Myrtle street, will be given a cordial welcome by her many friends in Atlanta. Mrs. Julian Field will be hostess at a small informal luncheon Thursday, July 3, at her home on Palisades road, honoring Mrs. Sztolcman.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott will be hosts Thursday evening, July 3, at a dinner party at the home on Brookhaven, the Capital City Country Club, honoring their guest. Covers will be placed for Mrs. Sztolcman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Nunnally, Frank M. Michael and Mr. and Mrs. Scott.

Sunday afternoon, July 6, Mrs. Henry Peeples, Jr., will entertain at a small tea at her home on Piedmont avenue, complimenting Mrs. Sztolcman.

Miss Still Weds Wayne Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther H. Still announce the marriage of their daughter, Marjorie Anne, to Wayne Campbell, of Atlanta, the ceremony having been performed Saturday, June 21. Following a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will make their home with Mrs. W. R. Cox on Martin drive.

Mrs. R. L. Cooney Will Address Club In Massachusetts

Mrs. Robert L. Cooney, president of the Peachtree Garden Club, will speak to the North Shore Garden Club, near Boston, Mass., and the Garden Club of York Harbor, Maine, the early part of August, it was announced at a meeting of the club which was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Reuben Arnold on Pace's Ferry road. Mrs. Cooney, who expects to address the North Shore Club August 6, will leave Atlanta shortly before that time. Mrs. M. E. Judd, of Dalton, honorary member of the Peachtree Club, delivered an illuminating address on "Lilies" to the members Monday.

Business Women's Club To Meet.

Miss Kate E. Hammerschmidt, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, has called a meeting of the executive board this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the club rooms, 181 Forrest avenue. Tentative plans will be submitted for the fall program, and all officers and board members are requested to have any suggestions of any work that they would like to have undertaken ready for discussion at this time. Mrs. Louis J. Ross, president of the Georgia Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, has been chosen to represent Georgia at the meeting of the national executive board to be held in Chicago, July 7, 8 and 9, over which Miss Marion H. McClench, of Ann Arbor, Mich., president of the National Federation, will preside. For the first time since the organization of the National Federation in 1919, there will be no national convention, as they are now held biennially, the first to be in Richmond, Va., in 1931. In lieu of the convention, regional conferences will be held in various sections of the country. Speakers from national headquarters will be present at all of these meetings, and problems pertaining to that given section discussed. For the past two summers the National Federation has sponsored good will tours to Europe as part of its international relations program, and will send its third and largest tour in July and August of this year. The climax of this tour will be in a meeting of representatives from many countries to be held in Geneva, Switzerland, August 23, 25.

Atlanta Visitor Feted in Florida.

Misses Caroline Crumley, Jean Lucas and Eliza Tway are being entertained at a series of social affairs in Jacksonville, Fla., where they are visiting, and a charming photograph of these attractive girls appeared in the Sunday issue of the Jacksonville Times-Union.

Miss Crumley, who is the guest of Miss Susan Palmer, was the honor guest at a bridge party Saturday afternoon given by Mrs. J. W. Pope and Miss Bessie Pope. Miss Crumley was presented with a handsome jeweled bracelet as a memento of the occasion. Miss Crumley is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Crumley, who was a girlhood friend of Miss Palmer's mother, the late Mrs. Susie Mae Pope Palmer.

Miss Lucas and Miss Tway are guests of Mrs. J. W. Pope, Jr., and are also being extensively feted during their stay.

Lt. and Mrs. Saffarans To Reside At Fort Benning at Early Date

Of interest to Atlantans is the announcement that First Lieutenant William C. Saffarans, U. S. A., who has been stationed in the Canal Zone, has received orders to report for duty at Fort Benning, Ga., at an early date. His return to Georgia will be a source of gratification to his friends and relatives as well as those of Mrs. Saffarans, who before her marriage was Miss Douglas Paine, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Paine, of Atlanta, and granddaughter of Mrs. Edward S. Gay, Sr. They have a little daughter, Douglas Paine Saffarans, namesake of her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Paine, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Saffarans were stationed at Fort McPherson before leaving for the Canal Zone three years ago.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

A SCHOOL OF SAFETY.
By Thornton Burgess.

Whoever goes to nature's school finds "Safety" habit happened over.

Safety first is the most important law of life for the little people who wear feathers and fur. It is the first thing to be learned. Nothing else matters until that is learned. There is no such thing as safety for the heedless, the careless or the stupid. No, sir, there is no such thing as real safety for these. One must be heedful, careful and smart to live to old age among the little people of feathered furs. So, usually, the first thing that is taught the furred and feathered babies is to instantly heed danger signals.

Over in the Smiling Pool was a school of safety. It had two teachers and nine pupils. The two teachers were Jerry Muskrat and Mrs. Muskrat. The pupils were their nine children. Peter Rabbit happened over there and it was a funny sight that Peter saw. The nine little Muskrats were swimming about where the water was shallow. A little farther out was their mother. Away over by the Big Rock was Jerry Muskrat. The instant that Peter appeared on the bank things happened. "Snap!" went Jerry Muskrat's tail on the water and Jerry disappeared. And then there were nine funny little slaps on the water, and nine little Muskrats disappeared. It was so surprising that

Public Works Bill Sanctioned in House

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(P)—Legislation designed to aid in preventing unemployment nearest enactment today with passage by the house of the Wagner bill for advance planning and regulated construction of public works during business depression and for an employment index to show the need for building acceleration.

The public works bill, already passed by the senate, was amended and returned to that branch for composition of differences. Congressional action was completed on the employment index bill and it was sent to the president.

House leaders have decided to defer action on the third of the measures introduced by Senator Wagner during the session, until the December session. This bill would create a nationwide system of employment exchange agencies under federal aid.

How the 1930 Woman Keeps Free From Pain

The 1930 woman is too busy to bother with pain, periodic or otherwise. She uses something that helps her to "snap out of it" immediately. It is a remedy called Capudine. Capudine, being liquid, is absorbed instantly by your system. Therefore it relieves pain quickly. Solid remedies require several minutes before being dissolved and absorbed. No matter where you happen to be, just take two teaspoonfuls in water. Wonderful relief. Thousands keep Capudine handy at home, at the place of business, on a trip. Sold at drug stores by the single dose, and in 30c and 60c bottles.—(adv.)

NINTH INSTALLMENT.

"How do I know you own those water holes?"

"You have my assurance that I do. If you doubt that, look up the records at the county seat."

"Your surveys are wrong."

"I am not aware of that. Of course, if they are, you may water your sheep after you've proved our statement. However, your argument is footless. You do not wish to believe me and I wouldn't believe you under oath. So suppose we have the county surveyor out here to survey all the lands I hold in fee simple. If he proves the old surveys to be erroneous, I'll pay his bill. If he proves them correct, you pay his bill, move out with your sheep and never come back."

"I'm not taking orders from any grasser."

Don Jaime's white teeth flashed in a smile of vast amusement. "No intelligent man takes a civet cat in his hands, Antrim. I have warned you, in the presence of Captain Hobart, not to trespass on the lands I hold in fee simple."

Without a word Antrim turned and walked back to his camp.

"It's war," said Don Jaime Miguel Higuenes.

"The man must be a trifle insane, Don Jaime."

"Not at all. He's running a bluff because he thinks I'm weak. He is willing to be arrested for trespass, provided his sheep may drink. He will bail himself out of jail—all his men, too—and trespass again and again. The season is a dry one and the feed on his own range is depleted. He must get through the summer some way and hold his flock intact. . . . Well, I'll ride back home and organize my defense."

"You'll do nothing of the sort, Don Jaime. I shall, as assistant general manager, it is my duty to command. Besides, I know how. Your life is much too precious to risk it in a brush with these shepherds. Arrests and trials will follow this fight, and if you are not alive to protect your men, who, then, will protect us? Who will bail us out of jail?"

Don Jaime smiled his lazy smile. It was easy to see he was very fond of the ranger. "There is sound reason in your argument," he admitted.

Hobart went on.

"Permit me to return to the hacienda and organize your forces, Don Jaime. Meanwhile, you ride on to Los Algodones and file my telegraphic resignation to the governor. Here it is. I wrote it out last night. It requests immediate acceptance by wire. The governor is a friend of mine and will do this. Wait for the answer. Meanwhile, make your arrangements to provide bail for twelve of your men. What men do you advise for this expedition?"

Don Jaime named them promptly, and Hobart realized that the force he was to defend the waterholes with was equally divided between Mexicans and Americans.

"Now, then," Hobart continued, "we're going to lick the Antrim crowd, and some of them and perhaps some of us are going to get killed. More of them, I think. The survivors will prefer a charge of murder against any of the men they have recognized during the fight, and the bail will be about $25,000 each in cash and $50,000 in bonds. We will assume that four of our men will be recognized. That means you must provide $100,000 in cash or $200,000 in bonds."

"I'm good for that in bonds."

"Well, then, make your arrangements in advance with the district attorney. You'll be in Los Algodones this afternoon, all night and tomorrow forenoon. Tomorrow afternoon you will ride back with the sheriff, who will be on his way out to your ranch to arrest your men. You will have a perfect alibi, because this fight will have been pulled off in your absence; so you will be quite free to look after the comforts of your defenders."

Don Jaime pondered. He much preferred, when his men were in danger, defending the master's interests, to share the danger with them. On the other hand, he realized that the issue was not to be fought entirely at the waterholes; that in the courts he would be needed much more than in any other arena of battle. He knew Ken Hobart was talking sense, and that the sensible thing to do would be to heed his advice. So he heeded it. And in heeding it he experienced no qualms of conscience, no feeling that he was playing safe while others fought his battles.

The employees of the Rancho Valle Verde were scarcely employed in the modern sense. Rather were they retainers, fierce partisans of the Higuenes tradition, men to whom it was a religion to fight for the master in defense of their bread and butter. This tribute of loyalty the ancestors of Don Jaime had demanded as a right; with the passage of time it had come to be accorded without compulsion and become a commonplace thing, to be accepted as Don Jaime accepted hot weather and cold, good fortune and evil.

"Very well, Ken," he agreed. "Enrico Caruso knows every foot of this range; once he locates the sheep he'll know what water they will try for this evening. The rest I leave to you. Perhaps you had better loan me your rifle, in case I should run into some of Antrim's herders after leaving you here. When you return to the ranch help yourself to my arsenal. I have very brand of rifle my foolish fancy coveted; select the one you like best, then let your men help themselves. Better use steel-jacketed bullets. I have dum-dum ammunition for use on the hacienda, but a sheep herder is such a pitiful creature, perhaps, he had better be as kind as we can."

He helped himself to the ranger's rifle and scabbard and fastened it along his saddle. It was a Mauser carbine, and the ammunition was carried in clips of five in pockets on a vest and with a nod to the ranger, headed his horse across country in the direction of Los Algodones.

It was some months since he had ridden a horse. For many years his trips around his ranch, between his ranch and the county seat, had been made by automobile. He paused now, thinking of the 20-mile ride back to the ranch; deciding he would spare himself that hardship, he shouted to Hobart:

"Ken, send one of the boys into Los Algodones with the motor and the horse trailer attached, to bring my horse and my home."

"Seguro," Hobart shouted back.

Don Jaime rode his horse along the side of the valley, gradually climbing to the summit of the hilly range on its southern boundary. Here he paused and looked off to the rolling lands below. They were dotted with sheep, standing in long rows a dozen deep, head to head, cropping the dry feed to the ground, never once lifting their roots with their sharp small hoofs. The complaining bleat of the lambs created a continuous diapason of discord.

It was true that the lands whereon the Antrim sheep grazed were not the property of Don Jaime Miguel Higuenes. They were state lands (for Texas never had a federal government) and, undoubtedly, Antrim had as legal a right to graze his sheep there as Don Jaime had to graze his cattle.

Nevertheless, by custom and usage, it had come to be known as the Higuenes range. Don Jaime's grandfather had purchased with cheap land scrip the acreage along the water courses and around the springs, and by this control of the water the Higuenes dynasty had for generations exercised nominal control over the public lands adjacent thereto. And since this was a common practice, regarded as an adroit business move but never as a wanton usurpation of the public domain, cattlemen and most sheepmen had respected the Higuenes control.

For the grass on this controlled range the Higuenes family paid no money. There was an unending dispute between them and the surveyor-general, who sought from their use of the land some revenue to the state. To the state's feeble charge of trespass by the Higuenes cattle, the reigning Higuenes had always replied with a polite offer to bear half of the expense of fencing the land; it held in fee contiguous to the state lands and thus prevented trespass. Since this constituted a fair and reasonable, nay, legal, method of adjusting trespass disputes between individuals, the reigning Higuenes had always held that the state should also accept his proposition.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN.

Associated Press Market Editor.

CHICAGO, July 1.—(AP)—Surprising scantiness of the amount of wheat delivered on July contracts, both in Chicago and Liverpool gave a big jolt to wheat traders today. Sharply higher prices ensued, although this was the first day of the new crop years and ordinarily the rush of wheat from the harvest fields at this time is apt to make wheat appear plentiful rather than the reverse.

Indications today, however, were that exporters had turned suddenly to the buying side of the market, and that growers were acting on federal farm board suggestion to hold wheat back for higher prices.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1-3/4 to 2-1/2 a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 5-1/2 to 5-7/8, and provisions varying from 7c to 10c to 1-1/2.

Right from the outset the wheat market here showed a notable upward trend, with Liverpool prices much higher than expected. Traders giving particular attention to statements from the federal farm board that for every reason to hope for a later average price on wheat than last year's, and that the federal farm board was expected to hold wheat back for higher prices.

Later evidence piled up that exporters were withholding Chicago for higher prices, and that the federal farm board was expected to hold wheat back for higher prices.

Moreover, selling pressure from the southwest was expected to be of little moment. Exporters in Chicago also appeared to be buying higher deliveries on a large scale, and a decrease of 200,000 bushels in world stocks of wheat was noted. Just before the finish, though, there was a setback from the day's top prices, generally ascribed to profit-taking.

Corn and oats mainly followed the upward turn of the wheat market. Oats, however, reacted to considerable selling pressure, and at one stage touched a new low price record for the season.

Provisions ruled irregular, disturbed by eastern selling of the July delivery of lard.

MANCHESTER OBSERVES

BIRTHDAY IN JAIL.

MACON, Ga., July 1.—(P)—As the hours, lulled by today and Earl Manchester, condemned youth, approached the celebration tomorrow of the twenty-first anniversary of his Canadian birth, he peered through the bars of the Bibb county jail and sighed that the future "is none too promising."

Now, as his life takes the turn to full manhood, and his youth is only a recollection—none too fond—he can only hope for the best, he said, and make an effort to forget the mistakes of his career behind him.

Little more than a year ago, he once confessed, he murdered James W. Parks, a year younger than him-

As he discussed his approaching anniversary this afternoon he said that the best gift that he ever could hope to get now is one from the Georgia supreme court—an order granting him a new trial. Since his former trial, at which he confessed the murder, he

"I guess I'll sleep most of the day," he said. "Maybe a few friends will call, but none of my relatives will be here as far as I know."

He received a few small gifts this afternoon.

SMYRNA MAN KILLED

ON AUGUSTA ROAD

While repairing the rear light on a truck, Charles Fowles, of Smyrna, Ga., was killed early Tuesday by an automobile on the Augusta road about seven miles from Savannah.

J. D. Baker, of this city, driver of the automobile, was released after a hearing in police court. He said he was blinded by the lights of a car approaching from the opposite direction and crashed into the back of the truck. Fowles was crushed between the two machines.

NEST OF RHEIMS:

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR No. 93

When Tarzan regained his senses he was a long way from the scene of the encounter. Both he and Werper were lying bound. The column had halted beside a stream and were preparing the evening meal. From the thick foliage of the near-by jungle a pair of fierce eyes watched the soldiers with silent intensity. As the guard unattended Tarzan's hands to allow him to eat and he arose to his feet, a startled expression of recognition entered the eyes of the hidden watcher and a low guttural broke from its savage lips.

Tarzan heard it but did not reply. Suddenly an inspiration came to him. All through the meal time he mumbled some strange jargon resembling the barking of a dog and the chattering of monkeys. One of the blacks spoke to his companions. "I have heard those sounds before. Once at night when I was in the jungle I heard the hairy men of the trees talking among themselves and their words were words of this white man. I wish we had not found him. He is an evil spirit. We shall have bad luck."

His companions laughed nervously and moved away to repeat the conversation, with variations and exaggerations, to the others, so that soon a frightful tale of black magic and sudden death was woven about the giant prisoner and had gone the rounds of the camp. And deep in the gloomy jungle amidst the darkening shadows of the falling night a hairy, manlike creature swung swiftly southward upon some secret mission of his own. Meanwhile, Jane Clayton, through a series of vicissitudes, had fallen into the hands of the Abyssinians.

After her hairbreath escape from the Arab camp she had unluckily crossed the trail of the returning soldiers of Menelek, had been captured and again under new masters, her journey was resumed toward what she now began to believe was her inevitable fate. Abdul Mourak, foiled in all his ventures to gain the gold and jewels of Opur, was reluctantly returning to make his report to his black emperor. Perhaps now this fair flower of another race would be an acceptable gift to temper the wrath of that black ruler.
